

CLEAR LORIMER BY THE REPORT

SENATE SUBCOMMITTEE MAKES ITS FINAL REPORT TODAY.

THAT DICKINSON PAPER?

McLachlan Has Really Forced the Hand of the Administration As Regards Defense Conditions.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—Senator Lorimer is absolved of the charge of having obtained his seat in the senate by bribery in the report of the subcommittee of the Senate committee on privileges and elections which was made to the full committee today. The full committee will consider the report on Tuesday.

As to Money.
Evidence that money passed between certain members of the Illinois legislature was not ignored by the subcommittee, but they say that if the votes of those who it is alleged received the money were eliminated Lorimer would still have three majorities.

Took No Part.
The committee finds no evidence connecting Lorimer with the payment of any money to influence the senatorial election.

McLachlan Wins.
Secretary of War Dickinson today said to the House a letter replying to McLachlan's resolution concerning the adequacy of national defense. The letter discusses the situation briefly but the secret report recently submitted to the House and withdrawn, will now be re-submitted.

Extends Thanks.
Thanks are extended to Rep. James Tawney in the Army and Navy Journal today for "taking the most effective means of calling public attention" to the report of Secretary of War Dickinson on the defenseless condition of the United States.

Denies Report.
Willis L. Moore, chief of the United States weather bureau, denied today the charges of "mismanagement, extravagance and irregularities" in his department, made by James Barry, a former employee, and filed yesterday.

The President's Appointment.
Charles Coterill of Toledo to be collector of internal revenue at Honolulu, Hawaii. Coterill is a negro.

POLICE SEEKING FOR LONE BANDIT

Who Held Up the Chicago and Milwaukee Electric Station at Kenosha and Escaped With $75.

(BY UNITED PRESS.)
Kenosha, Wis., Dec. 17.—Police of this city are today attempting to locate the lone bandit who last night held up the station of the Chicago-Milwaukee electric road here and escaped with $75. After calling Station Agent Vogel from the office by a decoy telephone message, the robber entered, thrust a gun in the face of Miss Vogel, the agent's sister, and looted the till. Vogel returned after the robber and found his sister on the floor in a faint.

WAS FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Verdict in Case of Woman Charged With Being Leader of a Lying Mob Was Rendered Today

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Newark, O., Dec. 17.—(Guilt of manslaughter) was the verdict today against Mollie Mathia, charged with having been the leader of mob which lynched Carl Etherington last July. The lynching was due to a bitter liquor fight, the saloons remaining open for a year in Newark. The Anti-Saloon league sent Etherington into town to get evidence against the saloons and the riot followed. Over twenty or more of the alleged rioters are to be tried.

PUGILIST HELD TO AWAIT THE RESULTS

Fight in Philadelphia Last Night May Result Fatally to One of the Contestants.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 17.—Edward (Kid) Gardner, the local lightweight pugilist, who was injured in a boxing bout with John Kuhn last night, is still in a critical condition. His skull was fractured and the physicians doubt his full recovery. Cain was today committed without bail to await the result of Gardner's injuries. Others connected with the bout were held in jail as witnesses.

JOHN DIETZ IN JAIL; REST ARE LIBERATED

All Held To Circuit Court For Trial But Gain Their Temporary Liberty.

(BY UNITED PRESS.)
Hayward, Wis., Dec. 17.—John Dietz is the only member of the famous Dietz family in jail today. Although bound over to circuit court on a charge of assault with intent to kill John Roglich, in 1906, Mrs. Dietz, Myra, Leslie and Clarence were liberated last night. By an error of the plaintiff all the members of the Dietz family were locked when court adjourned but were speedily released when Judge Rorison called up the jail. Clarence and Myra Dietz leave for the Twin Cities today for a mass meeting to be held on Sunday.

MODERNISM IS THE KEYNOTE

Of the Great Displays in Windows Of Metropolis—Triumph Of Santa Claus Up-To-Date.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
New York, Dec. 17.—The high note of living, the urgent necessity for labor reform, even investigations, labor troubles and even the memorable landslide at the last election are temporarily disclaimed from the minds of the people. Christmas shopping, with its thousands and one "parade," "worries," "surprises" and "disappointments" fills the mind of rich and poor to the exclusion of almost everything else. The cost of living may be high, but the people seem to have money enough left to buy Christmas presents and not for many years, how the holiday trade been brisker than this year.

All the Christmas shopper needs is money; opportunity to spend it in any way he may choose is offered most temptingly everywhere. Never were the displays of the shops more beautiful, tempting and distracting than this year and shoppers find it extremely difficult to resist the lure of the many delectable and temptingly beautiful things displayed in the shop windows and on the counters. It is not an uncommon thing for a shopper to start with the intention to purchase certain things marked down on his or her shopping list and to come home with an empty purse, without having purchased any of the articles mentioned on the list, simply because there were so many other things more alluring to the taste of the buyer.

Those who have been in the habit of making the rounds of the shops about Christmas time year after year, are delighted with this year's displays. To them, who have followed the manifold changes in the character of holiday goods, corresponding with the gradual evolution of wealth and refinement in this country, this year's magnificent display does not come as a surprise. They had watched the gradual evolution from cheap and crude toys to marvels of mechanical perfection, from equally cheap and gaudy tinsel, useful and ornamental articles of questionable artistic merit.

Less careful and systematic observers, however, who make the rounds of the shops at this time, will be greatly surprised at the wonderful changes in the character of holiday goods compared with the displays of five or ten years ago. Santa Claus is nothing if not up-to-date. Modernism, cramping and bulging out everywhere—it is the most striking feature of this year's holiday market. Nowhere is this tendency more apparent than in the toy displays. The soldiers, miniature "cavalries," drums, horns and other noise-producing instruments of torture and the hundreds of other "inferior" primitive toys which to delight the hearts of the boys ten or more years ago, are no longer conspicuous in the shop windows. They are still in the market and may be purchased, principally at the smaller shops, but they have outlived their attractiveness and have been relegated to the more obscure shelves and corners. In the windows the latest and most up-to-date goods are displayed. The place of honor is given to flying machines, airplanes, gliders, and other toys reflecting the wonderful modern accomplishments of man in the conquering of the air. There are small models of every known make of aeroplanes, biplanes, triplanes, Curtiss and other American and foreign models, dirigibles, a Zeppelin, down to "caption" county-fair balloons with parachute jumpers attached. Many of the models are quite large and the higher priced ones capable of taking flights of considerable length and height. The most expensive models of monoplanes and biplanes derive the power for their propellers from twisted rubber bands, while the cheaper models have steel springs and clockworks. These instructive toys, particularly the larger ones, are in every respect, excepting the motive power, exact reproductions of the machines used by the aviators. They can only be operated with safety in the open air, as they can reach an altitude of fifty to one hundred feet and can cover a distance of 100 to 200 feet. They range in price from $1.50 to $75.

The smaller and cheaper models also fly, but only when suspended from the ceiling, in which case they circle around through the air like real flying machines. In the same category belong the mechanical birds, which can fly in a circle and the new styles of kites built in accordance with the latest theories of aerolite.

Automobiles, electrical toys of every description, miniature moving picture outfits, apparatus for reflecting post-card pictures upon a screen, wireless outfits and other strictly modern playthings are also in evidence and seem to have taken the place of the crude and unscientific playthings favored by the boys of the last decade.

MARKET DULL WHEN THE OPENING CAME

New York, Dec. 17.—Trading at the opening of the stock market today was extremely dull with price changes confined to small fractions.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Boston, Mass., Dec. 17.—The causes of delay in the administration of justice in civil action and plans to remedy the evil were exhaustively discussed here today at the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Bar Association. The recommendations of the association will be submitted to the general assembly for legislative action.

MEXICAN GIRLS TAKE ACTIVE PART IN REVOLT.

Andrea and Teresa Villareal, sisters of Anton Villareal, the revolutionary leader, are raising funds and attending to the work of organization. Sarabia was one of the editors of La Generacion, a revolutionary paper, in La Junta. The rebel loss was also sentenced today to eight years of penal servitude.

Alberti, it is said, confessed to pecuniations amounting $2,300,000 and said the money had been lost in South African and American mining ventures.

He must also repay four million dollars of the many millions he has robbed from the people during his fourteen years as banker, broker and minister of justice.

London, Dec. 17.—With only eight constituencies remaining to be polled today and Monday, the elections are practically ended and to all intents and purposes the new parliament will be identical with that chosen in January last. Hurdling further gains or losses the government will have a coalition majority 126 as against its previous majority 124.

LYMAN ABBOTT TO BE 75 TOMORROW

Venerable Editor, Lawyer, and Minister Receives Anticipatory Messages of Congratulation.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
New York, Dec. 17.—When Dr. Lyman Abbott reached his office this morning he found in his mail numerous anticipatory messages of greeting to remind him of the fact that tomorrow will be his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary. Dr. Abbott has made no arrangements to celebrate the day, though it is likely he will be kept busy receiving the personal congratulations of a host of friends.

Dr. Abbott has had a singularly rich and varied career and there is probably no man of his age who has wielded a larger influence in the broad field of American affairs. His early life was spent in New York university, after which he was admitted in 1856 to the New York bar.

The ministry attracted him more than the practice of law however, and in 1860 he was ordained a Congregational minister. Through service in various pulpits he grew so much in pulpit power that he was regarded as the one person worthy to succeed Henry Ward Beecher in the famous Plymouth Church in Brooklyn when that great divine passed away.

Before Beecher's death he and Dr. Abbott had been associated in the editorship of The Christian Union, Dr. Abbott beginning at that time his career in journalism, a profession in which he has won great renown. Since 1893 he has been editor-in-chief of the Outlook.

FIGHT FOR CONTROL OF BUTTER RECORD

Chicago Members On Monday Will Try To Out-Clue That Manipulating Began Quotations.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Chicago, Ill., Dec. 17.—A fight for the control of the high butter board, whose weekly quotations has served for more than a quarter of a century as a means on which butter was bought and sold in practically every part of the United States, will come to a head Monday, when the board will hold its annual election of officers and committees. The fight is being waged by Chicago members of the board, who have long contended that the naming of the opening price of butter each week has been done under farcical conditions. Since the first of the year the Chicago members have been fighting to bring about lower prices. They maintain that the butter board is manipulated solely in the interests of a clique and they threaten to make some startling revelations at the annual meeting if those in control do not agree to reform their methods of procedure.

PROMINENT ALIENIST DIES VERY SUDDENLY

Dr. Clarke Gapan, Well Known Medical Authority Died in Madison This Morning.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., Dec. 17.—Dr. Clarke Gapan, one of the best known physicians in Wisconsin and widely known as an alienist and medical expert, died early this morning while asleep in his chair.

His death was caused by heart and kidney trouble. He had been ailing for a week. He was 60 and before commencing the practice in Madison was internist at Cook County hospital, Chicago; physician at Wisconsin state hospital for insane at Mendota; Commissioner of health at Omaha, Neb., and superintendent of the hospital for insane at Kansas City.

YULETIDE PLANS ABSORB NATION

News Forecasts For the Coming Week Offers But Little Of General Interest.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—The same week which sees the Christmas season approach high tide also contains the shortest days of the year, so it is not to be wondered at if the people generally find little time to devote to public affairs, politics, freight rate disputes, the high cost of living and the many other things that occupy attention during the other fifty-one weeks of the year. Even the proceedings of Congress, the political situation in Great Britain and other matters that have been absorbing public attention of late are likely to be forgotten for the time being while the people complete their preparations for Yuletide.

While the nation is overflowing with the spirit of peace on earth and good will toward men it is not without interest to note that the week will see the semi-centennial anniversary of the passing of the ordinance of secession in South Carolina, which marked the rising of the curtain on the great war between the states.

Several important court cases are on the calendar for the week, among them that of James Gallagher, who attempted to assassinate Mayor Gaynor of New York, but in view of the near approach of Christmas it is probable that in most cases the actual trials will be deferred until after the holidays.

The Democrats of New Mexico have called a delegate convention to meet in Santa Fe Monday to define the party's attitude toward endorsing the Constitution drawn up for the new state. An addition to the "mosquito" fleet of the United States Navy will be made Tuesday, when the torpedo boat destroyer Trippe, sister of the Paulding and Drayton, will be launched at Bath, Me.

The Japanese Imperial Diet will be convened at Tokyo Tuesday. The country is now wrestling with several great political problems and the latest advances report much popular dissatisfaction over the Government's policy, especially in regard to the tariff. The disposition of the tariff question, especially, is a matter of great importance to England, the United States and other countries.

CARDINALS LOST BY CLOSE SCORE

University of Wisconsin Cardinals Captured the Honors Last Evening With Score 15 to 13.

With victory just two points away the blase of the time's whistle spoiled defeat for the Lakota Cardinals in the game with the University of Wisconsin Cardinals at the rink last evening. The final score was 15 to 13 and had the time been extended for the period of one minute the count would certainly have been tied. The Madison team led at the end of the first half with the score of 8 to 6. Close guarding and fast playing kept the score figures low, Madison securing four field baskets and the Cardinals only one.

With the beginning of the second half the local players came back with the determination to win and their hopes were all but realized. They whirled the Madison team off their feet and captured the honors for the second period with the score of 9 to 6.

The work of Langdon and Cunningham for Janesville, and Harper and Johnson of Madison deserves special mention. The line-up was:

FIRST INDICATIONS OF HEAVY TRAFFIC

Increase in Passenger Traffic Of Railroads Gives Prospect Of Rush Next Week.

First indications of a heavy pressure of business in the passenger departments of the railroads are first being felt. The general run of passenger traffic over both the St. Paul and Northwestern roads at their depots in this city was slightly heavier than usual and by Tuesday or Wednesday of next week the real rush will be on. Janesville and nearby towns send out yearly a large number of people who go to spend the holidays at their former homes or with relatives and friends elsewhere. This number is somewhat offset by former residents returning to this city so that the depots are always crowded with passengers during Yuletide.

According to the local agents here, many "long haul" tickets are being sold, mostly on foreign railroads, that is on railroads which do not run into Janesville but make connections with the lines which pass through here.

CHICAGO AND NORTHWESTERN. CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S RECOGNIZED AS HOLIDAYS

Only Necessary Freight Trains Will Be Run On Wisconsin Division Of Northwestern Road.

Monday December 26 and Monday January 2, will be recognized as legal holidays by the officials of the Wisconsin division of the Northwestern system. According to a bulletin which has been posted at the roundhouse, sent out by Chief Train Dispatcher L. M. Davis of Chicago, all way freights and switching runs on the Wisconsin division on the Wisconsin and Milwaukee lines and way freights on or lines, will be annulled on those dates. Only such freight trains as are necessary to move stock and perishable freight will be run.

ENGINEER INJURED WHEN A LUBRICATOR EXPLODED

Engineer Grant Smith Of Fond du Lac Cut About Face This Morning By Pieces Of Flying Glass.

Engineer Grant Smith of Fond du Lac was cut about the face this morning by pieces of flying glass from a lubricator which exploded when he was starting out with an engine. The cuts bled quite freely and it was at first feared that some of the small pieces of glass had lodged in his eyes examined but no sign of injury to the orbs could be found. Smith's injuries are not very severe.

CHICAGO & NORTHWESTERN. PLANE HAD BEEN IN USE IN LOCAL SHOPS 47 YEARS Old Machine, One Of First Brought Here, Still Fit For Service, Having Been Overhauled.

A Putnam planer, one of the oldest pieces of machinery in use at the shops of the Northwestern road at the new yards, was returned Thursday from the Chicago shops where it had been overhauled and rebuilt. The machine, which appears small beside one of the modern styles of planers, such as that which stands next to it in the house, has been used in the Northwestern shops in this city for forty-seven years. It was this machine which Charles Palmer, the oldest man in point of years of service for the company at the roundhouse, first worked when he started to learn his trade forty-six years ago. In its present condition it is declared to be practically as good as new.

ENGINEER JOHN LEWIS HURT AT COAL CHUTES

Right Hand Badly Bruised and Jammed By Large Piece Of Coal This Morning.

Engineer John Lewis, who has been working at the roundhouse dispatching nights, had his right hand badly bruised and jammed this morning while at the coal chutes with an engine which was taking coal. A large lump of coal fell and struck his hand. None of the bones were broken, but his injuries are very painful, the arm being sore as far as the elbow. A doctor dressed the injury.

OPEN NIGHT WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Three Hundred Guests Were Entertained at the Open Meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Last Evening.

About three hundred guests were entertained at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last evening at the first open meeting of the year. All who attended were satisfied that the event was a great success and are looking forward to coming entertainments of similar nature.

The social work committee with F. B. Clynan, chairman, assisted by Prof. Wm. Vissan, chairman of the program committee, plan to hold one of these meetings every month during the winter, and hopes that it will be greeted with as much friendly appreciation as the first one.

Wm. H. Dougherty in the welcoming address spoke briefly of the beginnings and the work of the association, tracing its rise from the first dozen members to the present enrollment of 600. He expressed hopes for an enthusiastic future of the association. The remainder of the program was as follows:

Solo—"The Garden of Roses," Frank Doane.

Mandolin and Guitar Duet—Solos: Lorraine, Palmer and Moore.

Horizontal Bar Drill—Campbell, McDonald, Dobson, and Director Stephens.

At the close of this program an exciting game of basketball was played between the Y. M. C. A. seniors and the Southern Wisconsin Business college team, resulting in victory for the latter with the score of 21 to 19.

Disraeli's Humor.

I was introduced by particular request to Mrs. Wyndham Lewis, a pretty little woman, a flirt and a rattle; indeed, gifted with a volubility I should think unequalled and of which I can convey no idea. She told me she liked "eloquent, melancholy men." I answered that I had no doubt of it.—Letter of Benjamin Disraeli to his sister.

The Czar's Intentions.

A weekly paper has discovered that the largest room in the world is at St. Petersburg. This will probably be the room utilized to hold the proclamations of the czar's good intentions.

Center of New Jersey's Senatorial Fight.

James Smith, Jr., of Newark, N. J., whom Governor-elect Woodrow Wilson opposes as a successor to John Kean in the United States Senate. Governor-elect Wilson declares that John R. Marthe, who carried the Democratic primaries by 48,000 is the majority choice of the party and must be given the election. This is of special importance in view of the fact that in taking this stand Mr. Wilson breaks with the Democratic machine which is backing Smith.

Disappointed Friendship.

In the matter of friendship, I have observed that disappointments arise chiefly, not from liking our friends too well, or thinking of them too highly, but rather from an over-estimate of their liking for an opinion of us; and that if we guard ourselves with sufficient scrupulousness of care from error in that direction, and can be content and even happy to give more affection than we receive, we may manage to go through life with consistency and constancy, unharmed by that idiosyncrasy which springs from revelations of feeling. —Charlotte Bronte.

Sound "Taps" on Mayor.

A "striking" ceremony marks the expiration of the Grantham (England) mayor's tenure of office. The robe is stripped from him, the chain is taken from about his neck, and with a small wooden hammer the town clerk taps the ex-mayor on the head in token of the demise of his authority.

SANTA CLAUS HAS RECEIVED LETTERS

Sends Wireless To the Gazette That They Reached the North Pole Last Night.

Santa Claus has received the bag of letters from the little people of Janesville and the surrounding country. The mail bag started on its journey last night just as the clock struck twelve and early this morning the following message was laid on the Editor's desk.

North Pole, December 17, 1910.
Mail bag received all right. Many thanks to my little friends.

So you and little people the letters have reached Santa just as expected. On Wednesday next the Gazette will print them in full so that all may read them. They are most interesting and come from all parts of southern Wisconsin, where the Gazette is read. Next Wednesday you must look for your letter as Santa will send them back to us so we can print them in the paper where you can read them.

JUDGE GRIMM HOLDS HIGH WILL VALID

Draws Conclusions Regarding the Meaning of Provision Differing From Those of Judge Sale.

Late yesterday afternoon Judge Grimm rendered an opinion in the Margaret A. High will case which was appealed from county court by the Christian Home Association of Council Bluffs, Ia., a beneficiary to the extent of $500 according to the interpretation which it seeks to have established. County Judge Sale held that the bequest was void on account of uncertainty meaning. Judge Grimm finds the provision valid and sets forth an analysis of the phraseology and construction of the terms which, in his opinion, provide for the gift to the association.

CHOATE PRAISES SECRETARY KNOX

States He Has Plan by Which Nations Can Select Judges.

MANY NOTABLE MEN AT MEETING

Third Session of International Conference of American Society for Settlements of International Disputes is Held at Capital.

Washington, Dec. 17.—According to Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to Great Britain, Secretary of State Knox has discovered the solution of the greatest problem that came before the second Hague conference. Mr. Knox, Mr. Choate said, had practically completed the evolution of a plan whereby the nations of the world can select judges agreeable to all of them to compose a permanent tribunal at The Hague for the settlement of international disputes, but did not go into details.

Mr. Choate made this declaration in the course of an address at the third session of the International Conference of the American Society for Judicial Settlement of International Disputes held in the building of the Pan-American union.

Mr. Choate's subject was the court of arbitral justice as recommended by the second Hague conference. He was a delegate to that conference and outlined its work. He told of the efforts of the nations of the world, through their representatives at that conference, to agree upon the establishment of a permanent court of arbitration. He told how the matter seemed settled and that it was the consensus of opinion that fifteen judges be named. Then trouble arose as to the manner of selection of these judges. The great nations of the world offered to submit the selection to a ballot of the delegates; they offered to have each nation ballot for one man, the names thus chosen to be written on slips of paper and put in a hat. The fifteen names drawn happened from this hat would be the names of the judges of the court. America even agreed to withdraw entirely from the race for these international judgeships. The conference ended without a settlement of this, the greatest question that confronted it. The conference reached no agreement on it, Mr. Choate said because the small nations of the earth contended that "nation is a nation" and therefore entitled to as much representation on such a court as its big neighbor.

Other speakers at the session of the conference were Oscar S. Straus, ambassador from the United States to Turkey; Francisco W. Ilaris, editor of the London Economist; former Gov. Montague of Virginia; Shimon E. Baldwin, governor-elect of Connecticut; Francis B. Loomis, former secretary of state ad interim, and David Starr Jordan, of Leland Stanford university.

Interested.
"What did the rhinoceros do when you fired at him?" asked the eager listener. "He just stood still and watched me run."

FLEET SCHEDULE GIVEN

Movements of Ships for Some Time to Come Noted.

List Deals With Location and Destination of Uncle Sam's Vessels of Atlantic Fleet Until April 1.

Washington, Dec. 17.—Secretary of the Navy Meyer has approved a schedule of movements of the vessels of the Atlantic fleet for the next few months. The Atlantic fleet will leave Guantanamo about March 15 for Hampton Roads arriving about March 18. The fleet practice will be held off the Virginia Capes beginning April 1. The fifth division of the Atlantic fleet, consisting of the Tennessee, Washington, North Carolina and Montana, will sail from Hampton Roads about Jan. 4, and after scouting exercises will arrive at Guantanamo about Jan. 15. This division will leave Guantanamo for home ports about Feb. 20.

The Birmingham, Chester and the Salem will sail from Hampton Roads about Jan. 4 with the fifth division, will arrive at Guantanamo about Jan. 15 and will sail for some ports about Feb. 16. The seventh torpedo division will arrive at Guantanamo about Jan. 15, remain until about Feb. 20 and then sail for Mobile.

TRAP FOR KILLING INSECTS

Novel Method of Destroying Moths and Other Insects Which Are Harmful to Grapevines.

A novel method of killing moths and other insects which are harmful to grapevines has been adopted near Rhineins. Posts supporting five-candle-power electric lamps were placed in the vineyards, and from each post a dish containing water, with a top layer of petroleum, was suspended. During the first night these traps were placed in three parallel rows at distances of about 200 feet from each other, the distance between each lamp being about 75 feet. On the first clear evening the current was turned on about eight o'clock and the lamps remained burning until an hour or so after midnight. Soon after the lamps were lighted the insects swarmed toward them and were rapidly killed, either by the fumes of the petroleum or by the petroleum itself. The same operation was resumed the next clear night, but the lamps of the two outside rows were placed about 25 feet closer to those of the center row, and this was repeated on each of five subsequent clear nights, so as finally to bring the three rows within about 50 feet of each other. During the succeeding six or seven clear nights the movement was reversed, in the same manner, so as to return the lamps to their position of the first night. As to the position of the lamps, numerous experiments were made during these trials, and it was proved that the greatest number of insects were killed when the petroleum dish was only a few inches above the ground.

FARMERS' SCHOOL ON BOAT

Cruise on Rivers of State of Washington Planned by College—Most Unique.

Portland, Ore.—Probably the most novel school ever held in this section of the United States is that to be sent out by the State College of Pullman, Wash. This will be installed on a steamboat, and will tour the inland waters of Washington, giving instruction to the farmers, live stock men and dairymen in better farming methods and scientific care of stock and orchards.

A great variety of farming demonstration apparatus will be on board the boat, which will have a two-weeks' cruise. It. C. Ashby, assistant superintendent of farmers' institutes, will be in charge of the craft, and a staff of agricultural, horticultural and live stock experts will accompany him.

Two dairy cows will be carried on the boat, with a milking machine and model dairy outfit. Lectures on dairying will be given, telling of the best methods of milk production, care of dairy products and feeding problems. There will be carried an interesting exhibit, showing the most common insect pests that attack fruit crops. Sprays will be advised for each pest; pruning methods will be illustrated, and picking and packing fruit will be shown in demonstrations.

A gasoline engine to drive farm machinery, such as the milking machine and separator, as well as the home lighting plant, will be carried on board the boat, and its use explained to the farmers. Stops will be made at the various landings along the rivers, dates being advertised in advance, and it is expected that the unique cruise will be a great success.

Students Bar Hobbie Skirts.

St. Paul, Minn.—The first pronounced hobbie skirt made its appearance on the University of Minnesota campus the other day. It was bound just above the ankles by a band of velvet ribbon drawn so tight that the wearer could scarcely move. In addition to stares from every one she received plenty of advice, mainly intimating that she go home and put the dress out of existence. With a red face and angry tears she made for the car line after remarking that "The students were the rudest things" and that she would never wear the dress again.

Injunction Erred.

"What," said the little girl. The father is something of a fastidious as to speech, and he said to the five-year-old: "You should never say 'What?' my dear; always say: 'I beg your pardon.'" That the injunction erred on the side of overplanning was conveyed to him later, when the little girl, pointing to a blossom, said: "I beg your pardon" is the name of that flower."

Humiliating.

"And so, Miss Anna, you reject me. Well, to humble your pride a little, I'll tell you that you are by no means the first."—Fleegende Blaetter.

Xmas Toilet Sets

A Beautiful Assortment.

SMITHS PHARMACY.

May Teach Monkeys to Talk.
The monkey is not only more intelligent than the parrot, but is even more imitative. It is (excepting man) the only creature on earth that is capable of articulate speech. Prof. Boll believes that apes can be taught, at all events, to say a few words—at first by manipulation of their mouths and throats, as is done with the deaf born. We may live, he thinks, to hear chimpanzees talk, and with some degree of understanding of their own remarks.

Sweet Recollection.

"Young man, you ought to marry. A cozy home, blooming children—there is nothing happier in the world! And above all, you have the sweet recollection of the time you were a bachelor."

A Minute Lamp.
Physicians occasionally use, for the purpose of illuminating parts of the interior of the body, a delicate electric lamp, called the "pen lamp," because its little glass bulb resembles a small pen in size, being only one-quarter of an inch in diameter. It is, nevertheless, a complete incandescent lamp, having a carbon film one-eighth of an inch long and about two-thousandths of an inch in diameter.

Making of a Man.

A tired mother who had been occupied all day with an active and very troublesome boy, as she sat down in the evening and thought of the numerous details in which her strength had gone, said: "After all, it is a day toward the making of a man."

Immense Profit to Postoffice.
As showing the enormous interest taken in Limerick competitions, the British postmaster-general states that during August, September and October of last year the total number of six-penny postal orders sold was 311,000. In the corresponding three months of this year the number was 5,772,000, or 18 times as many. This means an immense profit to the postoffice.

More Criticism.

President G. Stanley Hall is quoted as saying that songs of the "polly-wolly-doodle" order sung by college glee clubs composed of stalwart, barbarians in evening dress often suggest downright infantility. "They, college youths, they do have a hairy mane, clinging to their vocations, and their avocations to the taste of everyone."

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

"All things come to him who waits."
Someone wrote this long ago;
Quoted round in diverse states
It is counted surely so!
But if I could have my way,
I should scorn this creed which
I should change it round and say,
"All things wait to him who comes!"

Waiting's not the thing for me,
I would rather die right in,
I would wait with chance and see
If I cannot quickly win.
Waiting's easy, that's a fact—
Lovers like to twirl their thumbs;
But achievement thus is backed—
All things wait to him who comes!

Waiting's for them who fall;
Winning's for them who stand;
Stubborn striving must avail
In the struggle for success!
"Be by effort strong and true
That the wheel of progress hums.
Therefore, friend, I say to you,
All things wait to him who comes!"
—Chicago News.

The age in which we live is not a waiting age, and the man or woman who sits idly by the wayside, waiting for fortune to smile, or opportunity to grasp them, will wait in vain.
The demand of the hour is not for waiters, but for workers. Neither is it for people who say, "I'll try!" but for people who say, "I will!"
This latter requirement is fully understood by expert workmen, in every department of toil.

The engineer who applies for a position is not questioned as to his ability to run an engine, and he doesn't waste any time in trying. He simply goes ahead and does the work.

There was a time, back in the school days, when the teacher encouraged the boy, discouraged over his problems, by chanting that old "saw," "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." And while the school-day sentiment applies to the boy during the years of his first experience, when drifting around in search of occupation to which he is best adapted, it loses significance, as soon as he settles down to work.

Some people are possessed of the notion that opportunity is a great traveler, and the only chance to intercept it, is to wait patiently by the roadside for an interview, when it chances to "pass by."

People troubled with this false conception, usually spend their lives in waiting, and frequently complain that opportunity never comes their way. The men who are at the front, and others who are on the way, do not belong to this class of waiters.

Opportunity is not a rover. It never journeys either by land or sea, but is so much of a fixture that it has long been recognized as an alluring asset in every department of life.

When the boy comes to himself, after the flush of the first few months' experience, in the great outside world, he discovers close at hand the ladder of opportunity, and ordinary ambition says to him, "Don't wait, but climb."

The timid souls, who get dizzy thinking about the ascent, are the people who wait around the foot of the ladder for opportunity to come down, but wait in vain.

There is one class of waiters who satisfy themselves with what seems a plausible excuse for waiting, and they are the people tarrying for the "old man's shoes" and an inheritance.

These people are not so numerous as the socialistic class who advocate a division of spoils without waiting for funeral obsequies, but they are kindred spirits consumed with a desire to get something for nothing, and entitled to less respect than the man who invests in a gold brick. Someone said, a time ago:

"It is harder to get something for nothing than we think it is when we read of wills going to probate. They do go there, and then it is to observe whether the heirs get the money or the money gets the heirs. Money in large chunks is pretty strong medicine, but we take it in when it offers without regard to our condition, and it does not always do us good."

"It has been said that a man could not be of very considerable use in the world until he ceased to be dependent on his work for his living. Of course, that is not so, as innumerable cases attest. Money in store is power, and makes for leisure to think and act, and may help enormously, in a crisis, to independence in thought and action."

"The trouble with those who come early into ready-made money is that so few of them ever learn enough about common human life, and people, and the elements of the job, to be considerably useful, even if they aspire to be. The money-getting school, whatever course you take, is an exacting school, for somehow you have to deliver the goods—some kind of goods that somebody is willing to pay for."

That's a good analysis of inherited wealth, and applies with equal force to the dangerous doctrine of equal distribution of wealth, a doctrine never so popular in this fair land, as it is today.

The burglar, the common thief, and the long list of criminals which throng the courts, represent in large degree the class of people who are on the waiting list, and whose ambition is to get something for nothing.

This is criminal covetousness, but only one degree removed from the more popular sentiment which inspires the larger class of waiters to anticipate with longing the dawn of the golden age, when everybody will share in the general distribution of property.

Too many people are waiting for this kind of an opportunity, but they will wait in vain, if the life of the republic is to endure. When Adam was evicted from the garden, he went out to sweat and toil, reminded of the fact that both were necessary to satisfy his appetite, and the race has been busy ever since. What Adam regarded as a curse, has proved the greatest blessing to humanity, for opportunity is always on the lookout for people who persevere.

The great storehouses of nature waited for centuries for the prospector and the discoverer, and their treasures are far from being exhausted.

The desert places, which seemed so uninviting, have responded to the touch of civilization, and out of nothing but barren waste has sprung a harvest of opportunity so alluring as to attract people from many lands to share in the bounty.

This transformation scene was brought about, not by men who wait, but by men possessed of sublime faith, and a willingness to invest time and money in the work of reclamation and development.

The conservation of natural resources, so glantly discussed these days, would be an unknown topic, had the people been obliged to wait for the government to discover them, and the wealth so generously distributed would still be hidden away but for the enterprise of private capital in the hands of men willing to invest it.

The government has been freely criticized for aiding pioneer railroads through land grants, yet the fact remains that these roads, stretching across the continent, have contributed more largely to general prosperity than any other element, and the government has shared in the benefits.

The land was waiting to be redeemed and populated, and the railroads came to the front and performed the work.

The schools of the land are the heritages of all the people. They are rich in opportunity and waiting to confer favors to every boy and girl who possesses ambition enough to get out of the waiting list and join the ranks of the seekers for knowledge. Education comes to the worker and not to the waiter.

In the kingdom of grace, the churches of every creed, with wide open doors, invite to enter and share the helpful influences which make for morality and a pure and wholesome life.

And so, through all the domain, opportunity waits, extending a welcome hand to every aspiring mind.

"Be by effort strong and true,
That the wheel of progress hums.
Therefore, friend, I say to you,
All things wait to him who comes!"

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

The fight now being made on tuberculosis, in all parts of the country, is in recognition of the fact that the disease is contagious, a fact which was long ignored. At a recent convention of Life Insurance Presidents in Chicago, an address was delivered by Eugene H. Porter, State Health Commissioner of New York, in which the following conditions were described:

"Did you ever hear of the 'Lung Block' in New York City? It is in the Seventh Ward, the most congested in the most crowded city in the world. This ward averages 678 human beings to the acre. The 'Lung Block' alone holds nearly 4,000. Of 265 cases of tuberculosis reported in the block, 161 cases came from six old tenement houses alone. One house called the 'Ink Pot' had front and rear tenements with a foul, narrow court between. Here live 140 people and here the plague thrives in darkness and filth. Let me give you a little of the history of one of these rooms."

"Up on the fifth floor is a room with two little closets behind it. Here death waited. In one of these a blind Scotchman slept and took the plague in 1891. He died in the hospital. Only a few months and the plague fastened again on his little daughter. She, too, died. Then one year later a Jew rented his room in October. He died the following summer. In the autumn came a German and his wife. She had the plague and died. Then an Irish family came in. The father worked hard and loved his children, but in six months the plague had him. This is the record of only one room in seven years. And the history of some farm houses is similarly saddening and instructive."

It might be worth while to remember that the sale of Red Cross stamps, now on, is to improve sanitary conditions, and aid in educating the people to stamp out the white plague by preventing it.

STATE RIGHTS.

The question of state rights, which disturbed the nation and brought on civil strife with such disastrous results, is causing more trouble just now than at any time in recent history. State legislation frequently conflicts with federal laws to the annoyance and detriment of railroads, and many other corporations who do an interstate business. To overcome some of these difficulties the National Civic Federation, organized a dozen years ago, will devote its annual session to be held in New York, January 12-14, to discussing topics which have to do with legislative harmony. The Federation says, in its advance notices:

"Whether we call it the 'new nationalism' or the 'old moralities,' the fact remains that there is an interminable conflict between the states themselves on some matters and between the states and the federal government on others, in respect to many of the vital problems of the day, which can only be terminated by legislation framed after serious and sane consideration. It is clear that there are many questions with which the states alone can and should deal through uniform action; there are other questions with which only the federal government can deal effectively; and still others in which co-ordination of effort between the states and nation is essential, the only test being, which control is the more desirable and effective, from the standpoint of public welfare."

"The importance of this situation to all business, commercial and industrial institutions is clearly recognized when we consider that our larger corporations—such as the railroads, telegraph, insurance, banking and trust companies, and, in fact, so far as taxation is concerned, all manufacturing concerns whose plants are in different states—are subject to forty-six masters, each with a mind quite different from that of the others."

"The diversity of state laws on ordinary commercial matters, such as warehouse receipts, bills of lading and negotiable notes, the urgent need for a uniform bill on compensation for industrial accidents, and, in fact, all labor legislation relating to hours and conditions of employment for men, women and children, the interminable law's delay arising from lack of uniformity in court procedure, the conflict between the states and the federal government on the question of pure food and drugs, the urgent need for an approximate uniformity in the laws governing the building of good roads, and the regulation of dairy products (both of which are being urged by farmers' organizations), give emphasis to the seriousness of our present chaotic legislative situation."

"To promote harmony between these conflicting interests the National Civic Federation is organizing councils in every state in the union, composed of representative men from the commercial, manufacturing, mercantile, banking, insurance, professional, delegations of the state councils will attend the annual meeting and determine upon a definite program and method of work."

Pullman porters, whose average salary is $25 per month, have asked the company for an increase, as they claim that tips are falling off and times are hard. A college professor brought a class of students to the Put Stock show in Chicago, the other night, and the colored brother slipped shoes until daylight, brushed up the party, and received a "thank you," with the statement that tips were illegal. Hence the demand for more wages, which is just and should be granted.

Jockey Club of England.

The fact that Lord Dunsborough has been elected a member of the Jockey club of England recalls to the Dundee Advertiser the extraordinary exclusiveness of the institution, which numbers the king as a member. The membership is limited to 70, and it is said the only club that can vie with it in exclusiveness is the Royal Yacht squadron. It was formed to provide a select and exclusive circle of sportsmen, but in the early days of the club heavy gambling, with unseemly brawls and open accusations of cheating, took place within its walls. The present home of the Jockey club at Newmarket has certain rooms reserved for the use of its majesty, who has honored the club with his presence for nearly half a century. In the dining-room on state occasions the hoof of the celebrated Eclipse may be seen mounted in gold.

The Hen and the Girl.

At Bordeaux, in France, a rich lady lost a diamond ring on the street. A few days later a little girl who assisted the cook in a boarding-house was sent to market for a chicken. When she brought it home she was told to dress it, and in doing so she found the lost ring in its crop.

The cook, the landlady, the man who had sold the chicken all claimed the ring, and the case was taken into court. There it was decided that it belonged to the girl, and the loser gave her $30 for finding it. The hen who wants to get herself pruned, dead or alive, will look around for lost diamonds.

Just say: "I saw it advertised in 'The Gazette' and the merchant will know exactly what you want."

TOYING WITH DEATH—AT TOP, R. ALPH DE PALMA. BELOW, BRUCE BRO WN.

The season of 1910 has been a remarkable one in the automobile field on account of the many who have been killed and injured and the hosts of drivers and motorists who have escaped by the narrowest margin. Ralph de Palma's recent experience, when he was all but killed, Louis Chevrolet's accident, which has incapacitated him for driving during the latter part of the season, both draw attention to the men who toy with death constantly in their profession.

Before the Vanderbilt race and also before the Grand Prize race at Savannah, banquets were held at which the machinists drank their famous toast, "Here's to the next to die." At these banquets it is reported that each machinist chipped in a certain amount to be devoted to the widows and families of any machinist killed. Among the drivers who have most frequently toyed with death is Bruce Brown, the New York boy, who only a short time ago ran away from his home to become an automobile driver, and who this year won the Grand Prize race at Savannah. De Palma is also known as a daring driver and has escaped death by a hair's breadth many times.

Inundated with Postal Cards.
In New York city alone the post office handles no less than 100,000 picture postal cards every day, and it is the same story elsewhere—in Chicago, San Francisco, New Orleans, Buffalo and in all the large cities. Moreover, it is not in the United States alone that these conditions exist. In Europe, too, all the postal services are actually inundated with postcards. It is officially stated that no less than 500,000,000 passed through the British postoffice during 1909—Bohemian for January.

Street Railway Accidents.
One of the startling facts developed by the public service commission of New York city is that over 200 persons are killed or seriously injured every month by the urban railways under the commission's jurisdiction. The annual toll of deaths in accidents is between 600 and 600.

RIOTS MUST STOP IN TAILOR STRIKE

Drastic Measures Taken by Chicago's Police Chief.

STRIKERS ARE FULL OF FIGHT

Indignation Meetings Held Over the Shooting to Death of One of Their Number—Sillm Hope of Settlement.

Chicago, Dec. 17.—Drastic measures to prevent renewal of rioting in the strike of the 50,000 garment workers against Hart, Shaffner & Marx and other firms were taken by Chief of Police Steward.

Every available man in the department it was said, were detailed on duty in the strike-bound district to prevent if possible a repetition of the outbreak in which one man was killed, another fatally shot and at least ten injured.

While these preparations were made by the police, strikers themselves were not inactive.

"If the manufacturers can hire slugs and arm them, we will protect our people."

This significant statement made by President Robert Noren, of the garment workers, and to which was added the remark that "if the manufacturers wish to continue the bloody war they have started, the garment workers should be in the field at the finish," was taken to mean that any attempt on the part of the police or alleged "slugs" to intimidate union pickets would be resisted by force.

Fearing trouble at the inquest over the body of Peter Norgreks, the victim of a policeman's bullet in the Bloomington road riot, the police decided to hold the inquest in the Dawson street police station. It is expected that the inquest would be postponed pending the result of the wound sustained by Michael Langevitz, a striker, who was shot through the left lung, and left wrist. He is now at St. Elizabeth hospital.

Striking garment workers held indignation meetings, following the shooting of Norgreks and Langevitz. Feeling ran high in the strike-bound districts and more rioting was feared. At the meetings of the strikers a petition was prepared which is to be circulated asking for public signatures.

This will ask that Mayor DuSane refuse to permit private police, known as "slugs," hired by Hart, Shaffner & Marx and other firms to carry weapons. It will also demand that police be withdrawn from the strike-bound firms.

Little hope of a settlement of the strike against Hart, Shaffner & Marx is seen in the second series of conferences called by Mayor DuSane and the city council committee.

Attorney Levy Mayer, representing Hart, Shaffner & Marx, declared that under no consideration would his clients agree to a closed shop.

Inasmuch as the strikers assert that the only peace terms they will agree to will have to be on the closed shop basis, it is expected that the conference again will end in failure.

LOVER KILLS SWEETHEART

Refusal of Girl's Parents to Permit Wedding Causes Double Murder.

Woonsocket, R. I., Dec. 17.—Erma Berry, 15, and William Nangle, 27, are dead as the result of the girl's parents refusing to permit the marriage of Erma to Nangle. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. William G. Berry, living near this place.

The young man met the girl in a field as she was coming from school and shot her through the temple and heart. He then lay down beside the dead girl and shot himself through the head.

SAILORS IN A LONDON ROW

Jackies of U. S. Fleet Quarrel Over Money and Stabbing Results.

London, Dec. 17.—Milton Crayon, a negro sailor belonging to one of the ships of the American Atlantic fleet, was arraigned in Bow street police court on a charge of stabbing another American sailor, named Robert Washington, in a quarrel over money.

Washington's life was saved by the knife striking one of his ribs. Grayson was remanded.

DEMOCRATS SCENT FRAUD

Owosso, Mich., Dec. 17.—Democratic leaders in this county state that Chairman Ed Shields of Howell will be here in a few days to investigate alleged irregularities in one of the precincts in Owosso where the members of the election board in the last election were all Republicans. A scandal has been stirred up, but no specific charges have been made.

Ice Bridge Forms at Niagara.
Niagara Falls, N. Y., Dec. 17.—An ice bridge has formed in the gorge below the falls. It is improbable that it will last, but an ice bridge that formed on Dec. 16, 1903, lingered until March 22, 1904.

RAIL MEN MAY STRIKE

Sixty-One Roads and 33,000 Men Involved in Dispute.

Labor Commissioner Nellie and Martin Knapp Will Attempt to Secure Peace Between Factions.

Chicago, Dec. 17.—Steps toward averting a possible strike of 33,000 locomotive engineers on sixty-one western roads formally began this morning, immediately on the arrival in Chicago of Charles P. Nellie, commissioner of labor, who is on the way from Washington at the request of the general association of the railroads. Mr. Nellie will be followed here in a few days by Chairman Martin Knapp of the Interstate commerce commission, and these two officials will act as mediators in an attempt to bring the officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the railroad managers together.

Both sides have taken a determined stand, the railroads refusing to grant the demands of the engineers even after the latter had voted to strike unless the advance of 15 per cent in wages was granted. The railroads offered an increase of 9 1/2 per cent. Minor points relating to hours and working conditions are involved.

HOUSE TO ADJOURN DEC. 22

May Hold Evening Sessions After Holidays to Finish Business.

Washington, Dec. 17.—Republican leaders have agreed upon a plan whereby the holiday recess of the house will begin after next Thursday's session, the recess to continue until Wednesday, Jan. 4.

Later on, possibly in January, evening sessions of the house are likely, with a view to facilitating the administration's legislative program.

CUBAN ARMY CHIEF RESIGNS

President Gomez Accepts Resignation of Gen. Pino Guerra.

Havana, Dec. 17.—Gen. Pino Guerra has received President Gomez's acceptance of his resignation as commander-in-chief of the army, which he tendered rather than accept an official mission abroad, which was offered for the purpose of getting rid of him.

As soon as he received the notification that his resignation was accepted, he took off the insignia of his rank and began to make preparations to leave his quarters at Camp Columbia.

CHICAGO PACKERS INDICTED BY JURY

Indictments Also Returned in Oleomargarine Inquiry.

BRICK CASE ON DOCKET TODAY

List and 'Oleomargarine' Positions of the Packers. Charged with forming a combination in restraint of trade and violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, through the operations of the "beef trust." The indictments, which contain four counts, supplement the true bills of Sept. 12, and cover new alleged offenses, thus bringing the cases up to date.

The indictments were to be returned before Judge Carpenter. Two indictments were also returned in the oleomargarine investigation, one of them being against a prominent and very wealthy man. The indictments were suppressed for service by Judge Landis. The final consideration of the brick trust case was put over until today, and indictments were expected in this inquiry.

Following are the packers indicted: J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour & Co., and the head of the alleged trust; Louis F. Swift, president of Swift & Co. since 1903, eldest son of its founder, Gustavus F. Swift; Edward Morris, president of Morris & Co., interested heavily in the Union Hauling company, and the Commercial Oil company; Edward Tilden, president of the National Packing company, and of Libby, McNeil & Libby, and former member of the board of education; Arthur Meeker, general manager of Armour & Co., president of the Omaha Packing company and vice president of the Hamilton Packing company; Edward F. Swift, vice president of Swift & Co., head of the Swift Fertilizer works; Charles H. Swift, director of Swift & Co., brother of the other Swifts indicted; Louis H. Heyman, general manager of Morris & Co., and said to be the right hand man of the Morris group; Thomas J. Connors, superintendent of Armour & Co., connected with several stockyards corporations, was one of the packers indicted and given an "immunity bath" in 1905; Francis A. Fowler, department manager of Swift & Co., formerly of the Fowler Packing company of Kansas City.

The indictment charges that the defendants "have knowingly engaged in a combination in restraint of trade."

ENGINE WORKMAN CRUSHED

Death Follows Turning on of Air Into the Brake Chamber.

Washington, Ind., Dec. 17.—The turning on of air into the chamber of the air brake of a locomotive by some unidentified person crushed the life out of John Wolf, 38 years old, married and living at 208 East Ninety-third street, New York.

Wolf was working as a machinist under the front end of an engine, and when the air was set in motion the brake rigging caught him in a vise-like grasp, literally mashing his head flat. Death was instantaneous.

OFFICER WOUNDS A ROBBER

Chicago Policeman Fires When Fugitive Refuses to Halt.

Chicago, Dec. 17.—An alleged highwayman was shot and probably fatally wounded in front of 35 Desplaines street by Policeman McNurney.

Helmuth Swanson, a sailor, of Rockford, Ill., is said to have held up Edward Johnson of West Pullman. Swanson ran and when he refused to halt Policeman McNurney fired at him. A bullet struck him in the groin and he was taken unconscious to the county hospital.

CLERKS WORK LONGER HOURS

President's Act Adds Half Hour Daily to Government Worker's Time.

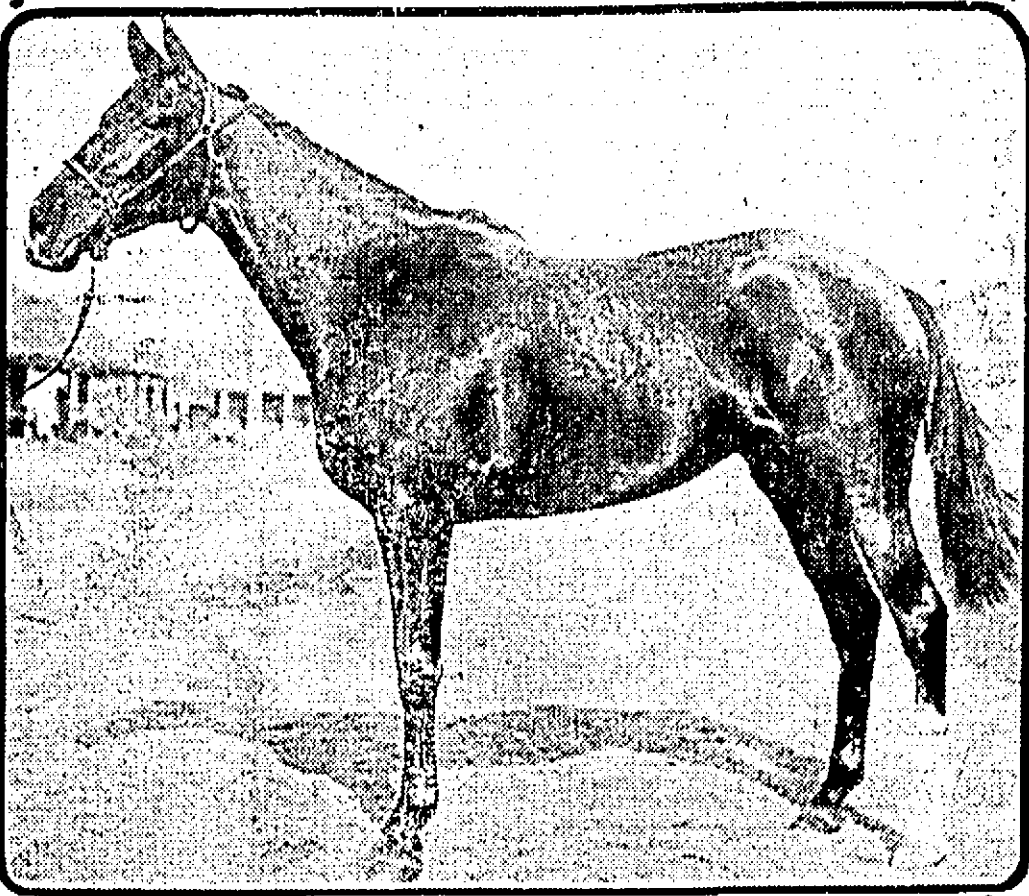

Washington, Dec. 17.—President Taft has authorized his cabinet officers, in their discretion, to add half an hour to the working day of the 30,000 or more government clerks under their control. This is another move on the president's part in the interest of economy, and it has been taken in the face of the usual storm of protest that arises in Washington whenever the question of lengthening the hours for government employees has come up.

The government clerk is to go to work at 8 o'clock in the morning and remain on duty until 4 in the afternoon, with half an hour for lunch. This makes a working day of only 8 1/2 hours. The clerks in addition had a vacation of thirty days with pay and thirty days sick leave each year, together with all national holidays and half Saturdays during the months of July, August and September.

Confucius a Real Sport.

The Encyclopedia Britannica, volume VI, page 261, says regarding the great sage of China: "They have told us how he never shot at a bird perching nor fished with a net, the creatures not having in such a case a fair chance for their lives."

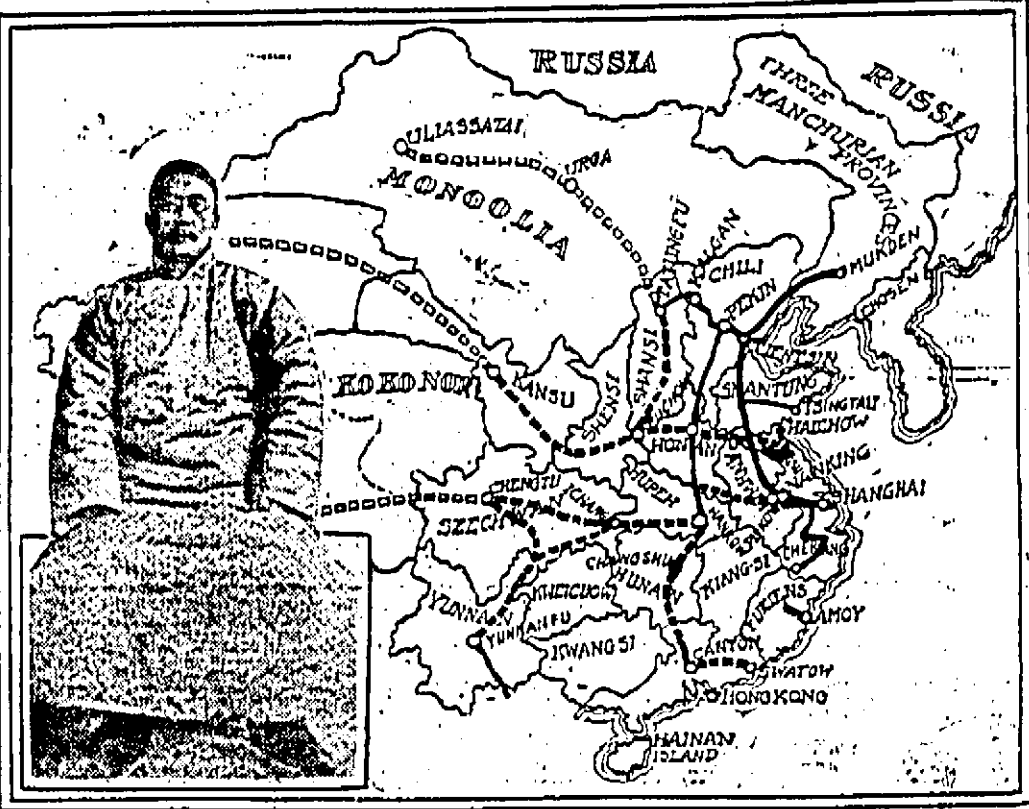

For such a sentiment Confucius and Jesus Watson should walk down future ages arm in arm together.

BREAKS WORLD'S RECORD—Dubbling Water, the speedy daughter of Colonel Wheeler Shasta Water, who set a new world's mark.

San Francisco, Cal.—Dubbling Water added to her laurels recently at the Emoryville track by capturing the Southern handicap and making a new world's record for a mile and 70 yards. The distance was covered in 1:42 1/4, cutting a fifth of a second off the former record, established by the 4-year-old mare, King's Daughter, at Fort Erie, August 25, 1908, and held jointly by Grania, Ida May and Tony Bonero.

The feat of the daughter of Colonel Wheeler was a performance that will long be remembered by those who witnessed the race.

Map of proposed and existing railroads. Solid black lines indicate railroads already constructed. Heavy dotted lines, proposed for completion in the near future. Open dotted lines, proposed but not to be completed for some time. Tang-Shao-Yi, president of the board of communications, who has been appointed for the purpose of pushing official plans for a comprehensive system of trunk lines.

Peking, China.—Among the many stupendous advances contemplated by the new China none is of more far-reaching importance than the proposed extensions of her present meagre transportation facilities. Tang-Shao-Yi, president of the board of communications, has formulated comprehensive plans and is hopeful of making great advances during the next two or three years.

When all the projected railroads are completed China will have one of the most comprehensive transportation systems to be found in the Orient and this in turn will mean much in opening up the interior and advancing civilization throughout the empire.

GOOD WILL

The Telephone Company Believes That It is an Asset

Good will may not be exactly a tangible, commercial asset that can be expressed in dollars and cents in the balance sheet of a public service corporation, but it is there and helps to produce a cash balance on the right side.

The good will of the army of people who use the service of the Wisconsin Telephone Company every day throughout this busy, growing state is of the utmost importance to the company which makes the cultivation of good will between its management, employees and the public that it serves an important feature of its policy. The traffic handled by the company is large and to the public should be automatic in its operation, but the "party on the line" is a large factor in his own service and the service of those with whom he communicates.

Good will, like politeness, is not costly, but it is valuable and pays large dividends.

The public is invited to assist in a combined effort for the best service. The well disposed customer promotes better results for himself and everybody else.

Smooth operation saves time and temper.

Lines of the Wisconsin Company extend practically all over the state and through connection with the universal service of the nationwide Bell System millions of people are brought into contact and enabled to touch elbows. —Telephone Talk No. 818.

Young Man,

Do you believe in systematic saving with the end in view of having a competence in your old age, or a provision for your widow in case of your death? Have you developed in yourself habits of thrift and saving that will enable you to be financially independent in your old age?

You know that rent, and fuel and food, are necessities of life that you are providing now, but ask yourself this, who will provide them after you are gone or unable to work.

Have you an emergency fund that you could draw upon in case of sickness or trouble?

The above questions are pertinent to every man's affairs whether he be young or old.

There is an easy solution to the above problems. A Northwestern Life Insurance policy is an "answer to windward" in stormy financial weather. It is a moneyed messenger that meets creditors more than half way if death should come. Creditors are far more ready to collect from an estate than debtors are to pay to an estate.

A Northwestern policy will make a systematic saver of you, and no man ever was successful that had not learned to save money.

There are many things you ought to know about life insurance. Drop me a card or call me up. It will put you under no obligations. Why not talk it over?

Make It a Player Christmas

For the money it costs, imagine if you can, a more beautiful gift—a more enjoyable or more satisfactory gift than a Player Piano.

You can play the Inner-Player Piano, because it has a device within its case that makes it unnecessary for you to touch the keys.

That means that you need no study, and no practice, to play any selection you may choose.

You can play any composition with an Inner-Player Piano. There is no limit to the possibilities that one of these instruments opens to you.

An Inner-Player Piano looks like any other piano, and you can play it by hand if you desire. But unless you are a very expert pianist you will prefer the easy Inner-Player Piano.

Do not confuse the Inner-Player Piano with ordinary player pianos. There are other instruments containing player devices but the only ones containing the patented Inner-Player made by The Cable Company, Chicago.

You can see them at our store.

EIGHTEEN HUNTERS DIE

Record in New England Below That of Recent Years.

Total of 3,391 Deer, 100 Moose and 22 Bears Bagged in the Woods of Maine.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 17.—With the last day of hunting for this season in New England ended, the record shows a total of eighteen deaths for the season. It is possible that other deaths may result from serious injuries received. The number of dead is far below that of the last two years, thirty-one having been killed last year and twenty-eight the year before.

More than half the victims this year were under twenty-one years old. Ten were killed by guns in the hands of others, the victims in four cases being mistaken for deer. Five were killed by their own weapons and three met death by drowning.

A total of 3,391 deer, 100 moose and 22 bears from the Maine woods have been shipped through Bangor. Last year 3,023 deer, 123 moose and 35 bears were killed.

Much interest attaches to the pugilistic careers of two young fighters on account of the fight scheduled for them in the near future.

Toledo is turning out one little pugilist who looks and acts and fights like a world heater. He is known as Battling Schultz and the name fits him well because he is a real brawler and a demon in the ring.

On December 12 he fought Andy Gus Bezenah in Cincinnati and four days later in Milwaukee he battles with Gene McGovern. There are few 121 pounders who are better than he is. He is a low head and fights a great deal like Ad Woolgast, swinging with a side arm motion.

A Matter of Manners. No comic opera is complete today unless it contains one song in which one of the principals or the chorus, or both, may sing at the audience. Undoubtedly every audience enjoys being sung at as a body, and callow college youths, home on a vacation, take great delight in being singled out for particular attention. But there should be a limit to this business. It is hardly fair to turn the spotlight on some wholly inoffensive couple in the middle of the house while the singer lifts her voice in song to ask the man, "Who are you with tonight?" Of course, the rest of the audience is vastly interested, especially if the butt of the joke seems to be ill at ease. There is no reason why he should be made to contribute to the entertainment. He has paid to be amused, not to amuse.—New York Telegraph.

Screwed Up Their Courage. It was the hour of family confidences. Mr. Higgins had finished his evening paper, and in slippers and dressing gown was tucking his toes before the asbestos fire log, while the wife of his bosom was putting a few stitches in the table cover she was doing for Aunt Mary, and which she hoped to have finished by Christmas. "I did something today that I've been screwing up my courage to do for a long time," said Mrs. Higgins. "Yes?" said Mr. Higgins, mildly interested. "What was it?" "You know that odious Mrs. H Jones?" replied Mrs. Higgins. "Well, I paid her a call that I have owed for nearly a year." "My dear, I can sympathize with you," said Mr. Higgins. "Today, by a strange coincidence I paid that odious Mr. H Jones a bill I had owed him for quite as long."

BE READY WHEN YOUR CHANCE COMES

Opportunity Comes To Everybody, But It Is Useless If One Is Not Prepared To Take Advantage Of It

Geniuses make opportunity. But geniuses are rare. The ordinary man has to wait till it comes along, and then use it to get success; or fame or money, or power, or whatever happens to be the object of his ambition.

You will hear a great many people say that they have waited all their lives for opportunity to knock at their doors and never heard so much as a footstep. But such people are only accounting for their own failures. The easiest of all excuses to make is for failure.

But in every enlightened nation, the man who knows opportunity when he sees it and WHO IS PREPARED TO MAKE USE OF IT, can never complain that he has had no chance.

It makes little difference how humble is the station in which a man begins life, if he is only determined not to stay there. The

W. W. DALE, President,

Who by faithful performance of duty and strict adherence to honest business principles, has built up the best known, the most meritorious, and the most successful business college in Southern Wisconsin—a school that in point of high grade instruction, thorough courses of study, progressive methods, and conscientious management stands without a rival in this part of the country.

Who has done much to elevate and dignify business education in Wisconsin.

Who has devoted almost twenty years to training young men and women to meet the exacting requirements of business life.

Who has been personally instrumental in giving hundreds of worthy young people the "right start" in life.

Who takes a personal interest in the welfare and advancement of students, encouraging, stimulating, assisting and recommending them at every opportunity.

Who has made a success of his own business and knows how to instill the spirit of success in his students.

Who ranks high in the esteem and confidence of the business public, and whose personal recommendation insures careful consideration, because it signifies standing and merit.

Southern Wisconsin Business College

was specially organized, specially equipped, and is conducted along special lines to help the young man and woman who feels that opportunity has not come their way. We have STARTED hundreds of young people on the road to success, some of whom are now owning a business of their own; some are managers of corporations, some court reporters, private secretaries, or confidential clerks. A BUSINESS EDUCATION opened to them the door of opportunity. Let us give YOU the "RIGHT START." We can open the door of opportunity for you if you will complete our courses.

All Business Schools Do Not Teach Business

as it is practiced in the best business houses. We are anxious to have every young person who is thinking of securing a business education to examine our record as shown by the success of our graduates. With scarcely an exception, you will notice our graduates ALWAYS secure the BEST positions in every office, not the second and third rate positions. This shows the HIGH GRADE work which we are doing.

Besides our courses are PRACTICAL AND MODERN to the smallest detail. Our students consume LESS TIME in acquiring our high grade courses than those who take the superficial courses offered elsewhere. This shows the EXCELLENCE OF OUR TEACHING STAFF.

We Employ No Solicitors

None of the high grade schools of the country employ solicitors to get patronage. Many a young man and woman have come to us after finding he or she has been deceived through flattering statements made by some smooth-tongued solicitor. Parents and intending students are warned to sign no contracts or scholarships of any kind. High grade schools all over the country require no contract or scholarship, because if the work done has merit, no agreements of any kind are necessary.

Our President will gladly call on you, but ONLY by request.

CELEBRATION OF CHRISTMAS SEASON IN CITY SCHOOLS

Children Rendered Christmas Programs in All the Schools Buildings of the City Yesterday.

Programs appropriate to the spirit of Christmas time were rendered in all of the schools of the city yesterday afternoon. Songs, plays, recitations and dialogues made up the various programs and brought the realization of the advent of the season of peace and good will. At the high school a short program was given consisting of an address by Prof. Buell on "The Spirit of Christmas", readings by Prof. Arbutnot from Henry Van Dyke's "Other Yuletide" and selections by a quartette.

At the Grant School, a program of special interest was given. All of the rooms united in one of the best Christmas entertainments which have been given in the city for many a day. A slight admission charge was made for the purpose of securing funds for the purchase of an organ for the school. The success of the project was assured long before the day for the exercises and many people could not be accommodated and were turned away for want of room. The program lasted for over two hours and beside the excellent selections rendered by the children, Miss Durch sang a number of Christmas songs. The program follows:

BELOIT WOMEN IN THE COUNTY JAIL

Sarah Epperson and Mrs. Flora Harmon Brought Here Late Yesterday to Serve Six Months Each.

Sarah Epperson and Mrs. Flora Harmon, both of Beloit, were brought here yesterday afternoon to serve six months each in the county jail. The Epperson woman was convicted of selling liquor without a license and the Harmon female was found guilty of conducting a disorderly house. The latter claims to be the wife of Claus Harmon of this city.

John Lund Freed.
John Lund, who was serving a six months' sentence in default of the payment of $100 and costs for participating in a hold-up at Evansville some time ago, was released yesterday afternoon. His fine was reduced by the court and a friend paid it.

STATE VETERINARIAN BEGGING EMPTY BOXES

Dr. Maecher Clarke, state veterinarian is a man of many troubles. First came the great shortage of tuberculosis, then came about tuberculosis to relieve the situation in a measure, at least, and now Dr. Clarke is worrying over the question of how to ship the stuff. The department is not given money with which to buy boxes for shipping purposes. In Madison Dr. Clarke has made the rounds of the cigar stores to see how many empty boxes he could secure to care for the supply.

MRS. ELLA REED WAS LAID AT REST TODAY

Highly Esteemed Evansville Woman, Who Died Thursday Morning, Was Buried Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, Dec. 17.—The remains of Mrs. Ella Reed arrived on the 2:25 train yesterday afternoon and were conveyed to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Johnson. Funeral services were held in the Methodist church today at two thirty o'clock and the pastor Rev. Chas. W. Coon, officiated.

The announcement of Mrs. Reed's death came as a most painful shock to Evansville relatives and friends here Thursday morning. She had left here about ten days ago and in company with Mrs. Jessie Lowth, mother of Principal Lowth, was visiting friends.

They had completed a pleasant visit at Hartford, Wis., and were spending a few days with Mrs. Mrs. Lowth's sister at Clyman. The ladies were old schoolmates and the visit had been a great pleasure to them all. She was as well as usual when she returned Wednesday evening and rested well until four o'clock. She grew rapidly worse and in less than an hour had passed peacefully to the life eternal, her death being due to heart failure.

Mrs. Reed was born in Vermont fifty-seven years ago, and was the daughter of Harmon and Rhoda Colton. She came when a child with her parents to Lowell, Wis., and here she grew to womanhood. She was married in 1869 to Dr. George Reed and for several years they resided in the northern part of the state, where Mr. Reed practiced medicine. About twenty-three years ago they moved to Evansville and for a number of years he was in the drug business. In early life she united with the Methodist Episcopal church of which she has ever remained a faithful and useful member.

Mrs. Reed was possessed with a kindly, gracious nature. She was an ideal mother, and as a neighbor was ever willing to lend a helping hand and will be sadly missed by her many friends. Besides her daughter and son, Mrs. Charles Johnson and Dwight Reed, of this city, she is survived by one sister, Mrs. Anna Pratt, of St. Paul, and three brothers, Messrs. Bert, Jay and William Colton, all reside in Minnesota, besides many other relatives who have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in their sad affliction.

Personal.
Mrs. Gertrude Kager entertained a few friends at dinner today in honor of Miss Genevieve Day and Mrs. Chas. Taylor.

Mrs. Adolph Boehmer and little daughter left yesterday for a visit to relatives in Horicon, Wis.

Mrs. Nellie Gillies is spending a short time with relatives in Brooklyn. Miss Cora Fairbanks entertained about a dozen young people at a "coffee" given at her home last evening. Miss Lizzie Gillies will be hostess to a number of friends this evening.

Simon Straus was here from Orfordville yesterday.

STUDENTS WILL GIVE CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT

Special Musical Program and Tree Will Be Features of Green Co. Training School Exercises.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Monroeville, Wis., Dec. 17.—The students of the Green county training school are planning to hold a Christmas entertainment at the school headquarters here next Wednesday evening. A special musical program will be one of the features and a Xmas tree will likely be held in connection with the affair. Only the pupils and the faculty will be present. The school closes Friday for a week's vacation.

Preparations are also being made by the school for a public concert and entertainment to be held shortly after the holiday recess.

Mrs. Treat Wells.
B. C. Wells is in receipt of a telegram from Grand Junction, Col., announcing the death of his brother's wife, Mrs. Treat Wells, death occurring at her home there after a brief illness. The remains will be taken to New Hampton, Ia., on Monday, where interment will be made. The deceased is well known here, having spent her childhood days here. Some fifteen years ago she was married to Treat Wells and two years after her marriage removed to New Hampton, and a year ago went to Grand Junction to reside. She leaves besides her husband, four small children and a brother, Ward Barker, also residing in Grand Junction.

Robert Spensley.
A special train passed through here yesterday on the Milwaukee road conveying the remains of Robert Spensley, nephew of Calvert Spensley of the Mineral Point bank, from Duquoin to Mineral Point for interment. The young man was about thirty years of age. His mother, Mrs. John Spensley, a sister and brother, were among the fifteen relatives who accompanied the remains on the special.

Appointed Aide.
Department Commander Walsh, G. A. R., has appointed W. V. Chadwick of this city as one of his aides. Commander Walsh also recommends J. B. Treat of this city, among others, for appointment as aide on the commander in chief's staff.

M. B. Lischinger is here from Minneapolis on a visit to his mother, Mrs. Jacob Lischinger, and his sister, Mrs. J. A. Stauffer.

Still Seeks the Light.
It is well to fly towards the light, even where there may be some fluttering and bruising of wings against the window panes.—Mrs. Browning.

Harry McClure Promoted: Friends of Harry McClure received good news this afternoon to the effect that he had been appointed superintendent of the Omaha dining and parlor cars. The promotion goes into effect Monday.

Now About Clean Food

Another Splendid Opportunity to Bring Out Facts

When the "Weekly" which sued us for libel (because we publicly denounced them for an editorial attack on our claims) was searching for some "weak spot," they thought best to send a N. Y. Atty. to Battle Creek, summoned 25 of our workmen and took their sworn statements before a Commissioner.

Did we object? No. On the contrary, we helped all we could, for the opportunity was too good to be lost.

Geo. Haines testified he inspected the wheat and barley, also floors and every part of the factories to know things were kept clean. That every 30 minutes a sample of the products was taken and inspected to keep the food up to standard and keep out any impurities, also that it is the duty of every man in the factories to see that anything not right is immediately reported. Has been with the Co. 10 years.

Edward Young testified had been with Co. 15 years. Inspector he and his men examined every sack and car of wheat and barley to see they were up to standard and rejected many cars.

H. E. Burt, Supt., testified has been with Co. over 13 years. Bought only the best grain obtainable. That the Co. kept a corps of men who do nothing but keep things clean, bright and polished.

Testified that no ingredient went into Grape-Nuts and Postum except those printed in the advertising. No possibility of any foreign things getting into the foods as most of the machinery is kept closed. Asked if the factory is open to the public, said "yes" and "it took from two to three guides constantly to show visitors through the works." Said none of the processes were carried on behind closed doors.

At this point attys. for the "Weekly" tried to show the water used was from some outside source. Testified the water came from the Co.'s own artesian wells and was pure.

He testified the workmen were first class, high-grade and inspected by the Co.'s physician to be sure they were all in proper physical condition.

dition; also testified that state reports showed that Co. pays better wages than the average and he thought higher than any in the state.

F. B. Martin, Asst. Supt., testified Grape-Nuts made of Wheat, Barley, Yeast and Water. Anything else? "No, sir." Postum made of Wheat, Wheat Bran and New Orleans Molasses. Statements made on his experience of about 10 years with Co.

Testified bakers are required to wear fresh white suits changed every other day. Said had never known of any of the products being sent out that were below the high standard of inspection. Asked if any one connected with the Postum Co. had instructed him how to testify. Said "No, sir."

Horace Brown testified has been with Co. 9 years. Worked in Grape-Nuts bake shop. Testified the whole of the flour is composed of Wheat and Barley. Attys. tried to confuse him, but he insisted that any casual visitor could see that nothing else went into the flour. Said machinery and floors always kept clean.

So these men were examined by the "Weekly" lawyers hoping to find at least one who would say that some under-grade grain was put in or some unclean condition was found somewhere.

But it was no use.

Each and every man testified to the purity and cleanliness.

As a sample, take the testimony of Luther W. Mayo.

Testified been with Company about 10 years. Now working in the bakery department making Grape-Nuts. Testified that the ovens and floors are kept clean and the raw products as they go in are kept clean. Also that the wearing apparel of the employees has to be changed three times a week.

Q. Do you use Postum or Grape-Nuts yourself at all?

A. Yes, I use them at home.

Q. If from your knowledge of the factory which you have gained in your ten years at the factory you believed that they were dirty or impure in any way, would you use them?

A. I do not think I would. No.

Asked if any one on behalf of the Company had asked him to testify in any particular manner. Stated "No."

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

AS WE WERE passing through a narrow passageway leading toward the train in a certain big depot the other night three men bore down upon us, running as if for dear life, and as they tore down past, knocked my companion's umbrella from his hand.

He picked it up, brushed it off, opened his mouth as if to speak, and then closed it again, without speaking.

I tried to rally his feelings by railing against the abominable rudeness and carelessness of the fellows of others that some people show, but, to my surprise, he didn't seem to feel grateful.

"What's the matter," I queried, "why don't you say something?"

"Well, you know," he answered, "I was going to say something quite vigorous, and then I stopped to think first if I might not have done the same thing in their places. You see it's eleven o'clock, and that was their last train. If they missed it they'd have had to stay here all night or take a two-hour trip on the electric."

I suppose I might have been a little bit careless myself if I had their reasons for hurrying.

"I try to make it a plan never to let myself get angry at anyone until I've put myself in the other fellow's shoes and been able to say, 'I know I wouldn't have done it under those circumstances.'"

How's that for a plan? Whenever a wave of indignation or resentment or displeasure against anyone sweeps over you, try to force it back until you have "put your self in his place."

I think it is a pretty good plan. I have tried it several times, and like my companion of the other night, I can't give myself the right to be angry very often.

I tried it the other day in a lunch room. I ordered some salad. It arrived without bread and butter. The waitress, having deposited it, scooted away, and apparently did not contemplate returning. After waiting several minutes, I inquired mildly of a waitress who strayed near my table if they didn't serve bread and butter with salad there.

"She's getting it for you just as fast as she can," she snapped.

I had inquired mildly and didn't think I deserved any such reply, so my first impulse was to be vexed with the waitress for being a disagreeable old thing. And then I made myself stop and think. "Suppose I'd worked hard all day, and was tired, and suppose I heard some one eating what I considered an aspersal upon a sister waitress, who also had worked hard, wasn't it just possible that I might have resented it in a similar manner?"

And I felt so very uncertain of the answer that I had to make myself swallow my indignation and open-mouthed plan, truly! Won't you try it the next time you are inclined to feel indignant or resentful against or superior to anybody?

SOME LITTLE RECIPES OF TESTED WORTH.

Peppermint Creams.—One small can of condensed milk, two pounds of icing sugar and two teaspoonsful of essence of peppermint. Mix altogether, roll out and cut into any shape. Leave them on a board to dry, turning them until quite hard.

Cold Meat Dish.—Place in a pie dish alternate layers of cold meat sliced thin, tomatoes cut thin and potatoes cut into rings, having the top layer of potatoes. Between each layer sprinkle a little seasoning and also a little flour; then fill up the dish with stock and bake until the potatoes are tender.

Brown Meal Biscuits.—One pound of white flour, a teaspoonful of baking powder, a teaspoonful of brown sugar and a pinch of salt. Mix thoroughly into this five ounces of butter. Make all into a stiff paste with a little milk. Roll out very thin and bake in rather a quick oven.

Rich Fruit Cake Without Eggs.—One pound of flour, one-half pound of sugar, one-fourth pound of currants, one-half pound of raisins, one ounce of lemon peel, one-half ounce of carbonate of soda, six ounces of lard or butter, half a gill of milk, a pinch of salt and one whelkessful of brown vinegar, to be added last.

HERE'S A SCHOOL FOR TEACHING WIVES

THEY are a man of my acquaintance—and he thinks himself a fairly intelligent and well informed man, too—who was greatly astonished when his wife told him, shortly after their marriage, that she did not know how to sew. "Why," he said, "I thought all women know how to sew naturally." And he was offended when his wife laughed at the idea that sewing is a natural gift with all women. And so it is with other branches of work commonly held to be common in women's sphere. They do not come naturally to all women, and some of them are not easily learned by any woman. To remedy the defects in the housewife's education of wives and women about to enter the matrimonial state a "school for wives" has been established in London. In it the scholars are taught everything that is likely to be useful to them in their wedded lives, such as cooking, sewing, the purchasing of supplies, laundering, etc. Nothing is neglected in the school's curriculum. The pupils are even taught how to stain floors, as is seen in the accompanying illustration. It is believed that many a Londoner will have cause to bless the happy inspiration which led his wife to the school, since the results of the instruction given there are bound to be seen in decreased household bills. The school will no doubt be imitated elsewhere.

Power of Locomotion.—An ordinary railway engine is equal in strength to 500 horses.

Truths and Truths.—There are truths which are not for all men, nor for all times.—Voltaire.

The KITCHEN CABINET

COOK is the heritage of every woman, to cook well the privilege of every girl.

—Jennie A. Jamison.

A woman's work, grave sin, is never done.

Common Vegetables.

The simple methods are the best in cooking, as such vegetable has its characteristic flavor which it is desirable to keep. Well cooked vegetables will be palatable and digestible, poorly cooked water soaked vegetables are neither.

In using wilted potatoes late in the spring they are much improved by soaking in cold water some time to replace the moisture lost by evaporation.

Such vegetables as cabbage and cauliflower should be soaked in water to draw out any insects that may be lodged in them.

All vegetables of strong flavor as cabbage, cauliflower, onion and turnip should be cooked in an open vessel to allow the volatile vapors to pass off gradually in the steam.

Vegetables should be removed as soon as tender; too long cooking changes the texture, injures the flavor and destroys the color of green vegetables.

Such vegetables as fresh peas and beans, all mild-flavored vegetables, should be cooked in a small amount of water and not drained; but the water used as a sauce for the vegetable.

The potato, which is our most common vegetable, is on most homes served day after day, week in and week out in about five or six ways. When there are nearly two hundred ways, and new ones being discovered all the time by progressive women, it seems hard that our tables should not have a little variation.

Instead of mashed potato served in the same old way, try mashing a teaspoonful of onion and mixing it into the mashed, seasoned potato; make them into small balls, brush with egg and put in the oven to brown. Serve as a garnish around the roast for Sunday dinner.

Mix the scrambled dish next time with a little grated cheese or hard-cooked eggs left from breakfast.

Potato croquettes made of seasoned mashed potato and egg filled with a teaspoon of peas or cooked celery are both unusual and appetizing.

SUNNY MONDAY

There is not an ounce of rosin in Sunny Monday Laundry Soap. Rosin is used in all other laundry soaps—because it is cheaper than the fats and oils used in Sunny Monday. Sunny Monday costs more to manufacture than any other laundry soap of which we know. It is kind to clothes—will not shrink flannels or woollens, or turn clothes yellow.

Sunny Monday is just as pure as its whiteness indicates; it is the safest and most economical laundry soap you can use.

SUGGESTIONS FOR CHRISTMAS

By ROSE TERRELL.

Cretonne was never so much in evidence as this season, and there were never so many beautiful designs shown in this excellent fabric. The prices run from a very fair quality at 25 cents a yard to a lovely artistic fabric at 65 and 75 cents. If care in the selection is taken the uses of cretonne are many. Do not give gifts that will be out of harmony with the room for which they are intended. You cannot buy a few yards of cretonne and make it up indiscriminately and give pleasure that is unmixable with pain. Each gift must be carefully considered, not alone from its artistic standpoint, but also from the standpoint of the receiver.

Desk Pad and Blotter of Cretonne.

A table or desk pad for a library which is furnished in green may be made of a cretonne having a bold design in almost any color on a brown or green background. Make the cover or to drop over the sides about nine inches, and the width of the table. To the center fasten a desk pad of card-board covered with blotting paper of harmonizing color. If this is fastened in place with the metal corners it may be replaced easily. Simply hem the ends and sides or finish with a cord the shade of the background.

Laundry Bag of Linen and Cretonne.

A laundry bag of cretonne and linen crash may be made in any fancy design. To make the bag of the crash and then apply the cretonne is an excellent plan. Such a bag should be small for handkerchiefs and collars, or may be large enough to hold all the laundry. Do not make the mistake of giving a girl with a room furnished in pink a bag with yellow roses on it, or vice versa, unless you argue that if it does not suit, you have discharged an obligation anyway.

Lawn Jabot.

Jabots are still worn and a bit of lawn that is worked by hand is always in good taste if the worker is capable of fine work. Do not give such gifts unless you are expert, however. The design shown is in very fine Persian worked with mercerized floss. The narrow or the edge is button-holed the better the work will look. The foreign work is especially admired for this exquisitely dainty edge. Instead of the satin dots, eyelets may be worked with good effect.

Do not give a man a bit of work too delicate for ordinary care. Men like more sensible things. Instead of a silk shirt case for dress shirts, make him one like the design in brown or gray but many times—work the dots in the same color. Work the dots in the darkest shade of the leather, which is of course finished with the suede side out. If the machine needle is very sharp and the stitch rather loose the lining and case may be stitched together after the case is turned, a snap fastening is used and the whole case should be finished with a row of silk stitching close to the edge.

Invention of the Salad.

Delicate cookery has long been known to flourish best in those lands where roast beef is hard to get. It was starvation that invented the salad, for example. Somebody had to eat grass or go hungry, so he put vinegar and oil, pepper and salt on it, and let it made dry bread seem like a dinner. I do not doubt that we shall bless the meat trust for a varied dietary ere we get through with it or it with us, whichever way the thing comes out.—Engene Wood, in Hampton's Magazine.

Prosperous Outlook.

"Since born in the city," the Billville man wrote to his home folks, "I have been hit by three automobiles, and of my lawyer tells me true, I'll get enough money in damages to fetch the whole family for a good long stay, and of the balance of you kin continue to get run over we'll be able to buy a big farm and live happy ever afterward."—Atlanta Constitution.

Temporary Heat Quickly

Did you ever stop to think of the many ways in which a perfect oil heater is of value? If you want to sleep with your window open in winter, you can get sufficient heat from an oil heater while you undress at night, and then turn it off. Apply a match in the morning, when you get out of bed, and you have heat while you dress.

Those who have to eat an early breakfast before the stove is radiating heat can get immediate warmth from an oil heater, and then turn it off.

The girl who practices on the piano in a cold room in the morning can have warmth from an oil heater while she plays, and then turn it off.

The member of the family who has to walk the floor on a cold winter's night with a restless baby can get temporary heat with an oil heater, and then turn it off. The

EDW. AMERPOHL, Prop.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Gazette, Dec. 17, 1870.—Jettings.—Mr. Merrill Case and wife, residing in the fourth ward, had a narrow escape from death by suffocation yesterday morning. The servant girl after filling the coal stove, the evening previous, neglected to close the opening in the top of the stove sufficiently to prevent the escape of gas from the burning coal inside; and, just before retiring, Mrs. Case closed the damper in the pipe, stopping the natural outlet of the gas and turning its current through the opening left in the top of the stove. About four o'clock Mrs. Case was awakened by the restless breathing of his wife, and was alarmed to hear her gasping for breath and partially insensible. On attempting to arise he found that he was practically in the same condition himself. However he managed to crawl to the door and alarm the servant girl, and by her assistance the doors and windows were thrown open, the fresh air reviving the almost suffocated inmates of the apartment. A fire alarm brought the department out at about four o'clock this morning, caused by the burning of a small house in the first ward occupied by Mr. Quinn, near the residence of Mr. Tallman. The building was entirely consumed, the steamer not being able to procure water. Rev. Dr. Whitlock will preach a memorial address at the Congregational church tomorrow on the Puritan—his history and character. The entertainment of the Wright Mission Band at the Congregational church parlors last evening, drew a good house and added materially to the finances of the organization.

Uncle Walt: THE POET PHILOSOPHER

(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthews Adams.)

By WALT MASON.

Where is the stately Mr. Grimes, the noblest man of modern times? He surely is a crackerjack; I'd like to pat him on the back, and hold him on my knees, I'd like to fold him to my breast, and say: "Your apple is the best that ever grew and ripened; I think so much of you that I would share with you my pumpkin pie, my taxes or my append." O let the good old name of Grimes be sounded by the evening chiming, and blazoned on the hourding; his apple drives dull care away, and makes each heart seem light and gay, down here where I am hourding. O let the noble name of Grimes be handed down to future times, embalmed in song and story; his apple cheers, inspires and thrills, helms to splendid deeds, and fills our hourding-houses with glory. 'Twould be the fondest of all crimes if I evermore the name of Grimes should be on earth paraded; for he has left a new delight—an apple that the gods would love—and has old harpists faded, O Grimes, I lack the poet's speech, or I would tell you what a peach you are, you dear old hunkum! You've poured some balm upon our smarting; you've surely reached the people's hearts, and reached them through their stomachs!

No Easiest Way.
Most men are not geniuses. They cannot hope to paint great pictures, or write great novels or to inspire millions with strains of noble music. Perhaps they ought to be grateful, for usually the work that is required to develop talent is ten times that necessary for ordinary commonplace success. The latter is within reach of most men who are willing to work for it. But work they must. There is no easiest way.

Demand Removal of Ugly Signs.
The city council of Springfield, Mass., has referred to the law officer of the city a petition for the removal of some billboards in Main street which have been eyesores for many years. The patience of citizens is at an end, and hundreds of them have signed a request for the abatement of the nuisance.

BREAKS UP A COLD AND CURES GRIPPE.

The Most Severe Cold and Grippe Malaria Will Be Relieved in Just A Few Hours.

You can surely end Grippe and break up the most severe cold either in head, chest, back, stomach or limbs, by taking a dose of Pope's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken. It promptly relieves the most miserable neuritis, pains, headache, dizziness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, running of the nose, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges. Take this harmless Compound as directed, without interference with your usual duties and with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25 cent package of Pope's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply. Pope's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or Grippe.

"Affinity" in Law.
The word affinity, in the eyes of the law, is rather respectable. The one-cleopatra says: "Affinity, in law, is the relation contracted by marriage between a husband and his wife's kindred, and between a wife and her husband's kindred, in contradistinction from relation by blood; but the kin of the husband are in no way related to the kin of the wife."

His Thirtieth Year.
James C. Curtis, who has received a reappointment as clerk of the appropriations committee of the house of representatives, is now serving his thirtieth year in the employ of the house, having first been appointed by Representative Atkins of Tennessee in 1877.

A Good Combine.
"Oh, John," exclaimed Mrs. Bayside, "having down the paper, 'Don't it just lovely? You remember that young couple who were upset off here last summer in their sailboat? Well, they fell in love and got married. And they're so well to do, too. Her father's a rich banker and his father is a prosperous farmer."

"Oh," smiled the summer hotel keeper, "a sort of corned beef and cabbage combination, eh?"

Christmas Flowers Decorations

We are going to have a display space in Taylor Bros' grocery on December 22, 23, 24, and will show a fine assortment of Potted Plants, including Azalias, Cyleman, Primroses, Poinsettias, Begonias. ## MUSIC AS A LIFE-SAVER

Tale From the Vasty Deep That Proves Truth of Song Warbled by Poet.

Up from the vasty deep comes a tale that proves the truth of what the poet sang when he warbled to the effect that "music hath charms to soothe the savage breast."

The story has been delivered in New York by the crew of the bark Pullus, which was wrecked on Grand Cayman island in the Caribbean sea during the recent tropical hurricane. When the vessel struck it was in the night, and in order to cheer up their comrades during the hours before daylight, two of the crew, who happened to be musicians, ground up tunes on a fiddle and accordion. That the performers escaped to tell the tale must be put down as a remarkable evidence of the fortitude and forgiveness on the part of the men who were facing death in watery graves.

However, no murder was done, and when day broke the natives of the island were seen hurrying to the rescue in such boats as they could command. They explained that they had heard the music and had come down to investigate the strange occurrence. The whole lot of shipwrecked men, as well as some chickens and a pig were taken ashore, and a grand barbecue with fiddle and concertina accompaniment, celebrated the rescue.

All of which points to the moral that when one goes down to the sea in a ship he should carry some producer of sweet sounds—even if nothing more than a Jewsharp—along as a life preserver.

Uncompromising.

HAD PSORIASIS FOR TEN YEARS

Itching and Burning Terrible. Appearance Worse. Had Specialists and X-Ray, with Some Success, Others without Relief. Used Cuticura. In 4 Days Relieved. Inside of 2 Weeks Cured.

"I had been suffering with psoriasis for a period of ten years. It would disappear occasionally for a year or so and then return in worse form than before. The last attack came on a little over a year ago, and by early summer had covered me all over. The itching and burning were terrible, and my appearance was worse. I had tried different specialists and had had the X-rays used on me, sometimes with some success and others without relief. In the early fall of 1909 I was induced to try the Cuticura treatment, by a party who had heard of a remarkable cure it had made, and I confess that I started in not only without faith but with every prejudice against the medicine. In four days I was relieved of the inconvenience, and inside of two weeks cured, except for a slight discoloration of the skin, which wore off in a few weeks. I subsequently saw my friend Mr. who had the same trouble. When he saw the wonderful effect of Cuticura upon me, he at once started the entire treatment and was well in about ten days. I beg to thank you for the relief you have given me, and if any one wants my testimony as to the merit of Cuticura for that trouble and will send me a stamped envelope with their address on it, I will be glad to send them a recommendation under my own signature. Harry G. Martin, 1005 Colgate Bldg., Baltimore, Md., Mar. 1, 1910."

The Chinese Way.

In China children are brought up almost as if they were deaf and dumb. A Chinese boy or girl will sit in the presence of father or mother for hours and never say a word unless spoken to. The Chinese boy who would speak to a caller at the house unless he had permission would be considered a most impudent rascal. Here in America the children do most of the talking, and the old folks have to keep quiet.

European System of Voting.

Open voting still lingers in a few countries; it is very like the English system of 40 years since. In Hungary, for instance, the elector declares aloud for whom he wishes to vote, and in the elections of the Prussian landtag he either gives his vote orally or writes it down.

COMBATING TUBERCULOSIS.

"Go to the hills and drink goat's milk," the prescription for consumption given by Hippocrates, father of medicine, more than 2,000 years ago, can hardly be excelled today. Exclusion of cereal and potato starch, cane sugar and of the excessive variety, which is always objectionable, is implied, if the prescription is not followed literally. The goat is free from tuberculosis, and the milk contains more fat than cow's. Plenty of fat is needed in the diet. Cream is the best, and olive oil next. A complete diet can be made of cream and artificial buttermilk. Mountain air is best, warm, moist, marshy atmosphere being particularly objectionable. Walking or horseback riding, especially in hilly country, is the best exercise. Agreeable mental and physical activities, avoiding exhaustion, are beneficial.

Home Course In Health Culture

XVI.—Emergencies In the Home

By EUGENE L. FISK, M. D.
Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

NOTWITHSTANDING all that has been written and uttered regarding "home" infirmities, the first impulse of the average man is to help a fellow being in distress. This is well exemplified by the agility with which half a dozen people unskilled will chase a hat that has been blown off.

When accident or disease occurs in the household, however, successful assistance is not so easily rendered as in the case of the wind blown hat. The most willing hands and heads may bring injury rather than relief through an excess of zeal and ignorance of how to direct it.

Fainting Spells.
Ordinary fainting spells, excluding cases of unconsciousness, due to heart disease, kidney trouble, apoplexy, etc., may be due to a number of causes—whisk, indigestion, eye strain, lack of food, bowel trouble, etc. In such cases the patient should be placed in a recumbent position, with the feet higher than the head and the clothing loosened about the neck and chest. Cold water poured over the face will usually suffice to restore consciousness. Aromatic spirits of ammonia inhaled or if the patient is able to swallow fifteen to thirty drops in a wineglass of water is a good restorative. Strong ammonia should not be applied to the nostrils of an unconscious person, as extreme irritation of the mucous membrane may result before the patient becomes conscious of it.

An impending faint may be prevented by having the patient place his head in his hands and lower it between his knees while sitting down. This strained position tends to retain the blood in the upper portion of the body and prevent the bloodless condition of the brain, which is responsible for the unconsciousness.

The natural impulse is to raise the head and body of a patient who has fainted. This is the worst possible thing to do. Feet high and head low is the rule.

Sunstroke.
The symptoms of sunstroke are very high temperature, ranging from 104 to 112 degrees F., congested countenance, heavy breathing and unconsciousness. This condition may be mistaken for apoplexy if the temperature is not taken.

The remedy is, in a word, cold. If it is not possible to give a full ice cold bath feed cloths should be applied to the head, neck and chest and the extremities bathed in cold water. The application of cold must be continued until the temperature drops to normal and resumed if it rises.

The symptoms of heat exhaustion are the reverse of those above described. The temperature may be subnormal, the face is pale, and there is a condition analogous to shock, with a bloodless brain.

The treatment must be directed against these conditions. The application of heat to the body and extremities is necessary by means of hot water bags, bottles, etc. Coffee, essence of ginger or other stimulants should be taken internally. The recumbent position is advised for fainting spells is also indicated.

Convulsions, Etc.
In true epilepsy the patient should be made as comfortable as possible during the attack and prevented from injuring himself.

Convulsions in children may be due to comparatively trivial causes—teething, indigestion, worms, etc. Sometimes a convulsion is the first sign of a serious acute disease, as infectious fever, pneumonia, etc.

The child should be put in a hot bath (100 to 104 degrees F.), for about five minutes. This will usually control the spasm, and the patient can be put to bed and other necessary measures taken, especially cleaning out the bowels, which may be most rapidly accomplished by an enema. A physician should, of course, be called.

Surgical Troubles.
Sprains.—In this condition there is laceration of ligaments, blood vessels and other structures surrounding a joint. The first treatment is to place the injured part in hot water and apply hot cloths for half an hour. The joint should then be bandaged, not too tightly, and kept at rest until the acute swelling and tenderness subside. Alternate applications of hot and cold water poured over the joint from a pitcher are often beneficial. It is a mistake to attempt continuous self-treatment of a severe sprain. Months of suffering and crippling may result from neglect to secure early surgical aid. The X-ray has demonstrated that supposed simple sprains are often complicated by fractures.

Fractures.
When a limb is fractured the first step is to apply a temporary splint in order to prevent needless injury to soft parts by the ends of the fractured bone. Any stiff material, an umbrella, rolled up newspapers, cane, etc., may be bound to the limb by handkerchiefs, towels or bandages until surgical aid has been procured. In fractures of the leg one leg may be bound to the other. If the skin has been broken the fracture is termed compound, and extreme care is necessary to prevent further laceration or infection of the tissues.

Wounds.
Slight punctured or lacerated wounds are often neglected or improperly treated, owing to the fact that no medical aid is sought. For the reason that blood poison and lockjaw are not uncommon following comparatively trivial injuries all wounds should be cleansed as quickly as possible with peroxide of hydrogen, turpentine or some antiseptic solution. A sterilized gauze pad should then be applied and held in place by rubber adhesive plaster or gauze bandages. The use of strong antiseptic solutions in wounds is no longer customary. When the wound is infected, as evidenced by heat, redness, swelling or discharge of pus, the parts should be cleansed frequently with peroxide of hydrogen and a simple wet dressing applied as follows: A gauze pad is bandaged over the wound and kept moist with a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda in boiled water. Antiseptic solutions kill germs, but they also interfere with the natural reparative work of the body cells.

Dangers of Carbolic Acid.
Carbolic acid should be banished from the household, except in the form of carbolic vasoline. This preparation may be useful to apply to cuts or sores in emergencies. Solutions of carbolic acid constantly applied to the extremities, fingers, toes, etc., have been known to cause gangrene.

Every useful purpose served by carbolic acid as a household remedy can be served by simple household antiseptics, such as a saturated solution of borie acid or the official liquor antiseptic of the United States Pharmacopoeia. Diluted with several parts of water, this latter preparation may be used whenever a cleansing antiseptic wash is required.

Burns.
Probably nothing causes more excitement in the household than burns or scalds, and this explains why first aid is so seldom properly and promptly applied.

The most convenient and perhaps the best remedy to apply is ordinary baking soda. This may be applied in powder and the parts wrapped in clean linen cloths, gauze, etc., and then covered with cotton, or the bandages may be saturated and kept moist with a strong solution of the soda. Blisters should be punctured with a needle that has been sterilized in boiling water, but the skin should not be removed.

When a burn is very extensive immediate proper dressing is difficult, and it is extremely important to reduce the shock and protect the burned area from the air. This may be quickly done by placing the patient in a warm salt bath, keeping the temperature between 94 and 104 degrees F. Such treatment is often continued for a long time, replenishing the water, of course, as it becomes contaminated. Stimulants internally are called for.

Ear Emergencies.
Accumulations of wax or foreign bodies in the ear should be removed by syringing with warm water or saturated solution of borie acid. Insects may be suffocated with a few drops of pure sweet oil and then removed by syringing with warm water. It is a bad practice to use oil in the ear for the removal of wax. If syringing with warm water does not suffice a physician should be consulted.

Ears are usually due to inflammation, which may develop into suppuration and abscess. Heat should be applied by means of hot water bags, hot clay poultice (Cataplasmata koflin, U. S. P.) or hot fomentations. Hot water may be poured into the ear while the patient reclines on his opposite side and the heat retained by covering the affected ear with cloths saturated with hot water and the whole covered over with a flannel pad.

Bleeding from the Nose.
In old people or those with a tendency to apoplexy a hemorrhage from the nose may prove a relief and should not be too hastily checked. Where it is desirable to check a hemorrhage the application of cold to the nose and back of the neck will often prove efficient. Syringing with peroxide of hydrogen is also an excellent emergency remedy. Syringing with a hot salt solution at a temperature of 125 degrees F. is another efficient measure. If the temperature of the solution is lower than 125 degrees it will only aggravate the hemorrhage.

Bicycle Riding.
The exertion of riding 50 miles on a good bicycle is about equal to that of a 15 mile walk.

CHESS CHAMPION OF WORLD COMING

Dr. Emanuel Lasker Of Berlin Is Scheduled To Sail For America Early Next Month.

New York, Dec. 17.—According to information received from Berlin, Dr. Emanuel Lasker, the world's champion chess player, who has just completed his championship match with Janowski, intends to sail for America early next month. He plans to spend at least six months on this side of the Atlantic, during which time he will give exhibitions in many of the chief cities of the United States and Canada. The visit will afford most American chess experts their first opportunity to meet the man who is acknowledged to be the greatest living master of the game.

Dr. Lasker did not need his latest victory over Janowski to stamp him the master of the game. His defeat of the great Parisian player only again showed to the world his marvelous skill and ingenuity. As a mere boy Dr. Lasker was greater at chess than most great players and early learned to calculate results far ahead of the game. His first efforts were made when he was twelve years old. His first tutor in the game was his brother, whom he readily outstripped. In 1889 he entered the Haupt-Turnier at Breslau and surprised his friends and competitors by carrying off all the honors. Since that time he has been the admitted master of the science. In 1895 he scored a great triumph at St. Petersburg, in which he defeated Steinitz, Pillsbury and Tschigorin. The following year, at Nuremberg, he won the international championship, defeating all the great players of the world.

Kaiser's insult to a Courtier.
An incident very reminiscent of such pettiness was told to Tip the other day by an American just returned from Berlin. It seems one of the Kaiser's suite, a noble of high rank, had incurred the imperial displeasure. The Kaiser did not wish to lose this gentleman's services, but apparently desired to humiliate him for the real or fancied offense.

At one of the state dinners shortly afterward, the noble was seated half a dozen places from his ruler. Beside him sat a woman of title, whom he had known from the time both could walk. The two conversed animatedly. Suddenly his imperial majesty leaned forward and exclaimed in a harsh voice: "Prince, it is not etiquette to flirt at my table." The man thus addressed rose to his feet and bowed low. The next day he resigned and retired to his country estate, although it is well known he received a personal letter of apology from Wilhelm II.

Rheumatism

Is A Constitutional Disease.

It manifests itself in local aches and pains,—inflamed joints and stiff muscles,—but it cannot be cured by local applications.

It requires constitutional treatment, and the best is a course of the great blood purifying and tonic medicine Hood's Sarsaparilla, which corrects the acid condition of the blood and builds up the system.

CANADA'S FARMERS PRESENT CLAIMS

Five Hundred Representatives Give Dominion Government and Parliament Benefit of Views.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 17.—With a view to obtaining at first hand the opinion of the farmers of Canada in regard to the tariff and other questions of importance to the agricultural interests, the members of the Dominion gave a hearing to a delegation of over five hundred representatives of the organized farmers of the country. The conference was held in the chamber of the house of commons. The extraordinary public interest attached to the conference was evidenced by the fact that the galleries were filled long before the hearing began. Representatives of newspapers in all parts of the Dominion were present.

Among the agricultural organizations represented at the hearing were Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan, the organized farmers and dairymen of Ontario and Quebec and the fruit growers of the Maritime Provinces. The Canadian Council of Agriculture and the Dominion Grange were represented by many of their officials and leading members.

The chief requests presented to the conference were five in number, as follows:—
The placing of manufactured articles used by farmers on the free list.

Government ownership of a line to Hudson Bay.

The establishment of a chilled meat trade in Canada to foster a greater export business.

The passing of a law to permit the formation of co-operative societies; Government ownership of terminal elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur.

The foregoing, in the opinion of the farmers' organizations, represents in a general way the chief points of the programme which the Government should adopt with a view to furthering the best interests of the several million persons engaged in the agricultural industry in Canada. The details of the programme are left to be worked out later, with such modifications relating to the tariff and trade preference as may be found necessary.

A policy of reciprocity in natural products and timber, and free trade in agricultural implements with the United States, would, it is urged, prove a great boon to the Canadian farmer, both as to buying and selling. It would enable him to get his implements and farm equipment cheaper, and to sell his wheat for more, as the Western farmers claim the price of wheat in the Minneapolis market ranges considerably higher than the price in Winnipeg.

In regard to the proposed Hudson Bay railroad, the farmers are emphatically in favor of Government construction, ownership and operation of the line, believing that private ownership would result in a monopoly that would be harmful to the interests of the public.

The establishment of a chilled meat trade in Canada and the passing of a law to permit the formation of co-operative societies are matters that have long been advocated, particularly by the Western farmers, in the belief that the entire country would be greatly benefited thereby.

The Western grain growers consider the demand that the terminal elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur, which form the outlet from the West to the seaboard by way of the Great Lakes, be taken over and conducted as a public utility, as one of the most important items of the entire programme. They allege that the present system constitutes a natural monopoly which has proven detrimental to the interests of the public, through the mixing up of inferior grades of wheat with the better samples.

CHRISTMAS TREAT IN ROPED ARENA

New York Fight Followers Anticipate Fine "Go" Between Abe Attell and Paddy McFarland.

New York, Dec. 17.—Fight followers in the metropolis are looking forward to a genuine Christmas treat next week, when Abe Attell, the little champion of the featherweight class, will mix it up before one of the local clubs in a ten-round bout with Paddy McFarland, one of the acknowledged "spouters" in the lightweight division. Having exhausted the entire featherweight directory from A to Z, Champion Attell has expressed his intention to waste his way through the lightweight class rather than to remain idle, for idleness has never been to the liking of "Foxy" Abe.

The weight limit for the coming contest is fixed at 135 pounds four hours before the going sounds. Attell will therefore give away about twelve pounds, for he will weigh more than 124, while McFarland's avoirdupois will probably total 130 when he steps into the ring. Despite this advantage which McFarland will have in the matter of weight Attell is confident of his ability to defeat the Chicagoan.

Don't Buy Land at $100 Per Acre in Rock County When You Can Buy Better Land at $32 to $40 Per Acre in Minnesota

There is no misrepresentation here. Every statement will be substantiated by a visit to this land. Call and talk it over. I will tell you all about the land as I have just returned from a trip of personal inspection. If you will take this trip and you do not find the land exactly as I represent it, your railroad fare both ways will be refunded.

This land is in Polk County, Minnesota, in the Red River Valley, one of the richest sections in the Northwest. The soil is virgin and in better soil than Rock county soil. All the improvements, such as rural routes, schools, roads and other buildings, are in. The houses, barns and other buildings are as good as Rock County buildings. There is an abundant rainfall, so much so that the state and county have put in a complete drainage ditch system. Some of the best Rock county farmers who have visited this land have already purchased land here. We will give you reference.

Lord Loveland Discovers America

By C. N. AND A. M. WILLIAMSON

Copyright, 1910, by Deekleyday, Page & Company, Copyright, 1908, by the McClure Company

"What not?"

"You gentlemen of the company (Loveland had already learned that they never spoke of each other as mere 'mon') dressed behind another partition, the ladies behind another, and the crowd could scarcely have been worse in the 'black hole' of Calcutta. Nevertheless every one was more or less good natured. Costumes of a sort and odds and ends of gowns and hats were offered to Loveland, who, to his own surprise, was shaking and perspiring oddly with stage fright."

"What not?" he roughly scolded himself. "As if an audience in a tenth rate village mattered. What do I care whether or not I know my part or what they think of me?"

But the queer fact remained that he did care, and his heart thumped faster than it had thumped when he was roused one dark night to fight his first battle. He wanted to act well; he wanted to please Lillie de Lisle and to satisfy Ed Blinney, who was watching him with a keen eye. He wanted to make a good impression on the pretty, big-eyed country girl who had stared at him with interest as he passed through the auditorium.

There were not nearly enough local stage hands employed in the theater, and acting was not the only work the actors had to do. They helped place the scenery and change the settings. They flew about like distracted demons, half dressed, with suspenders flying, turning a burglar's den into a millionaire's dining room, and between the bewildering alterations of scenes there was no rest for the soul of any one's foot.

How they ever got themselves out of one costume into another in time, how they ever remembered which of their many donnings came first, which last, Loveland could not conceive; but, standing in the wings waiting for his own dreaded turn, he was filled with an increasing respect for the barnstormers, male and female. They could act, too, most of them, which seemed to him the strangest part of all, for he had not expected to find the satelites of Lillie's little star twinkling with the light of talent. As for his own performance, he realized before it had begun that such histrionic efforts as had won him applause when an amateur in London would not be good enough to gain him admission as a professional in Midway. It was another thing when, as a handsome young actor, Lord Loveland, dressed in a tuxedo and with a long, mud-caked staff, came to pass through the auditorium. As for dressing rooms, they did not exist, for it had been a second thought of some light-minded town council to turn the hall into a place where theatrical representations might lawfully be produced, but a space on either side of the stage had been cut out of the floor, and at worst an actor in dressing himself could be seen no higher than the knees unless, perhaps, a too bright light behind the partition might reveal his whole person on silhouette.

Loveland was anxious to talk with the star about her old friend—if not Lillie Blinney, and he had hoped on starting to walk by her side. But Miss Moon, seeing his desire, had instantly frustrated it by calling him and beginning to talk of the part he was about to rehearse. As old Dave Drendon, who was supposed to coach her with monologues, and he felt that it would not be difficult to do so regardless even in the character of Loveland, but he contrived to listen politely, if coldly, to the story of her first marriage at the early age of fifteen. "I'm not quite sixteen years older than my eldest son, who is over twenty now," she said and did not look pleased when the juvenile lead found no more tactful comment than an absent-minded "Is it possible?"

On the stage he received the short manuscript part of Dave Drendon and was allowed to glance it over while the scene of his "dying curse" was being set. He was too inexperienced to remember what in gay, amateur days he had learned of stage directions, and Jacobus was inclined to be sarcastic at his expense, but both Miss Moon and Miss de Lisle, as well as Ed Blinney, befriended him. He was called upon to do as rehearse the ball scene, where he "walked on" as a young man of fashion and had the privilege of dancing with Miss Moon before dwindling, in the last act, to a mere dead hand. All the "business" had to be repeated again and again until at last he was confident and the stage manager almost hopeful.

At a o'clock a meal, which called itself supper, was ready, and, having boiled a cold edition of dinner, skied out with thin peaches and cups of tea, actors and actresses marched forth in a body to begin the evening's work. The curtain did not rise until half past 7. But this was Saturday night, and the town was eager for its entertainment. At least a score of persons were seated in the dismal auditorium, munching apples and candy and cracking peanuts, when "the human flower" and her company filed in.

A few little boys on the cheap benches at the back whistled, clapped their hands, stamped on the floor and made "catcalls" as a greeting to the players. But these saluted took no notice and scurried by like hunted things. Miss St. Clair hastened to her seat at the piano, near which an elderly quondam had already begun to tune a fiddle, and melancholy Mr. Winter remained at the door to help the ticket seller until it should be time for him to "make up" as the heroine's millionaire parent.

"I suppose you do remember that you're a young English Lord?" she whispered anxiously.

Loveland started and stared. Had she found him out?

"In your next scene," she explained. "Oh," said Loveland, relieved. "Am I—or a Lord?"

"Yes, 'Didn't Jacobus tell you? But perhaps he thought it didn't matter." "It doesn't seem to," retorted Val, smiling faintly at his own hidden meaning.

"You're supposed to be the son of the Duke of Highbury. Pa Winter's the duke, you know. Of course, though, you haven't seen the whole play yet, only your own scenes, so you can't keep track of everything. You have only to walk on, or, rather, waltz with Miss Moon, you know. And when she goes off and I come on in my girl's clothes again you must say, 'The next is mine, I believe,' with an English drawl. But the part's down on the program as 'Lord William Vane'."

"By Jove! I know Willy Vane. He's in the Black 'n'—began Loveland, but he bit his lip and broke off abruptly.

"The human flower" laughed, "I don't suppose your friend's a Lord, though."

Loveland did not reply as the choice lay between a lib and an affirmative. "You ought to know how lords behave more than any of us," went on the girl, "as you're an Englishman. I suppose you've seen some?"

"Yes, a few," said Val cautiously. "Were they very naughty?"

"Not all of them."

"Well, as you've seen them you'll know just how to act, and you look real swell. Perhaps you'd rather watch Jack Jacobus' big scene than talk to me. I have to go, anyhow, in about four minutes."

"I'd rather talk to you than watch Jack Jacobus' big scene," said Loveland. "I have a message for you from an old friend of yours that I've been wanting to tell you all day." Loveland began hastily, not to waste one of the four minutes. "I wonder if you remember him—Bill Willing?"

"Bill Willing—a friend of yours?" The girl spoke sharply in her surprise. "Then you haven't forgotten him?"

"Forgotten him? I never will to my dying day."

Her voice quivered a little, for, like most actresses of her type, her emotions were as easily played upon as harp strings.

"Those are almost the words he used about you," said Loveland, interested in Lillie's part of the broken love melody as he had been in Bill's, "only his were stronger."

"What were they—exactly?"

"'What I tell you really'."

"Yes, quick, quick!"

"He said he always had loved you and always would love you till his dying day."

"Oh!" Lillie de Lisle gulped down a small sob. "I thought he'd forgotten all about me long ago. He never wrote."

"No; he told me he didn't dare, or something like that, but he couldn't resist sending a message by me."

"If you knew what it is to me to hear from him again! How in the world did you meet him?"

(To Be Continued.)

DRINK PLenty OF WATER

It Flushes the System, Carrying Out Impurities and Leaving What is Beneficial.

To say that drinking at least three pints of water a day would make a girl beautiful would be gross exaggeration, but it is perfectly true that such an amount of fluid, taken judiciously every day, will be a wonderful aid in acquiring or increasing good looks, and it is such a cheap way of improving one's appearance that to ignore it is a pity.

Water, properly taken, flushes the system as a pipe is cleaned by putting down it a large quantity of pure cleansing liquid at once. And, as with the pipe, impurities are carried out, leaving only that which is beneficial.

In order that the good effect shall be gained, two facts are important: One is that the liquid shall not be taken with meals, and the other that it shall not be of icy temperatures. In the former case it dilutes the gastric juices, sometimes causing indigestion, and certainly neutralizing some of the nourishing properties of food; in the latter it stays digestion, and may be the cause of severe pain.

Many ailments now agree that water should not be taken with meals, and that many cases of indigestion may be traced directly to the fact that this theory is unheeded. To derive benefit a glassful should be taken at a time, sipping it slowly and not gulping in large quantities. Ten minutes for each glass is none too long. The temperature may be cool, but not sufficiently so to chill the stomach.

The first drink is not to be taken sooner than half an hour after a meal, and water is not to be put into the stomach later than half an hour before a meal.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

THE DIVINE YEAST.

Mark Twain is authority for the statement that you cannot tell how far a frog can jump by looking at him. Neither can you forecast the future of a boy by his appearance.

A biography of Judge Peter Grosscup, the distinguished federal judge of Chicago, tells some interesting things concerning the boy life of the judge.

His parents were primitive Germans known as Amish. They were poor, too poor to send their five children to school. Both the mother and the girls worked in the fields, and Peter alone got some schooling.

Peter was a tall, awkward youth, with a mop of black hair, untrimmed, after the Amish fashion; a protruding nose and thick lips.

Even today Judge Grosscup is not a handsome man, though distinguished looking.

Moreover, Peter would not work. He was a dreamer of dreams that nobody understood. But his mother said:

"If the Lord doesn't feel to make Peter work I don't feel to do it."

Which argued rare philosophy in the mother, who, with a mother's insight, saw something unusual in her awkward son.

Peter disappeared from the neighborhood, and the next that was heard from him he had graduated at college with honors and was studying law.

Somehow within the unmonth Amish had won a divine yeast that caused him to rise in the world.

It is good to add that when the judge became prosperous he took very good care of his people.

There is his people.

If you aspire to a prophet's reputation he will not wait to prophesy the future of a freckle-faced country youth.

And further—

With the career of Judge Grosscup before him, the poor boy who aspires to distinction may well take hope.

And further still—

It is your business and mine to see that the door of opportunity remains wide open to the poor and ambitious youth.

Item For Women

Marlboro, Mass., June 1, 1910.—I can frankly say that Parlan Sugo has given me perfect satisfaction, and will highly recommend it as a hair grower and beautifier, and a sure cure for dandruff. I also have recommended it to several people, and it has given wonderful results.—Mrs. G. Barlow, 26 Main St.

Only used two bottles of Parlan Sugo, and I find my hair has increased wonderfully in thickness and luxuriance and beauty. The dandruff has disappeared. I was wonderfully surprised, as I have tried many hair restorers, though I have found none that ever has helped my hair except Parlan Sugo, so I can say it is worth all the hair restorers I have ever found, and I will tell many friends about it. Gratefully your friend, Miss M. Clough, Box 212.

"The Peoples' Drug Co. guarantee Parlan Sugo to kill dandruff germs, eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp, or money back. It is the most delightful and refreshing hair dressing in the world and is not sticky or greasy. It is sold everywhere. Buy it for 50 cents a large bottle. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package."

BACK GIVES OUT

Plenty of Janesville Readers Have This Experience.

You tax the kidneys—overwork them. They can't keep up the continual strain. The back gives out—it aches and pains.

Urinary troubles set in. Don't wait longer—take Doan's Kidney Pills.

Janesville people tell you how they are cured.

Mrs. H. P. Jones, 419 Western Ave., Janesville, Wis., says: "My back was so painful that I had to go around with a weak over and sometimes there was a weakness through my joints that made it impossible for me to stand. I did not sleep well and it seemed as if a weight were tied to my back. Reckmeyer's Kidney Pills highly recommended. I got a box at the Peoples' Drug Co. and began their use. They cured me and at that time I was pleased to make the fact known by means of a public statement. I take pleasure in confirming all I have previously said regarding Doan's Kidney Pills and can add that I value them as highly as ever. I know that this remedy can be relied upon to correct any symptom of kidney trouble."

For sale by all druggists. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A REGAL HEAD

How often do we hear or see this expression used in describing a beautiful woman?

Demure that head of its hair and instead of a queenly, royal bearing we have a fright. The hair makes all the difference. To have that glorious abundance of radiant hair which always crowns "a regal head," one should use Newbros' Hairdressing.

Hierpeldie represents the latest word in scientific hair culture. It destroys the dandruff germ, checks falling hair and corrects generally, dandruff of the hair and scalp.

The positive results and its delicate but refreshing odor recommends Newbros' Hierpeldie to ladies of refinement everywhere.

Send the in postage for sample bottle of Hierpeldie and booklet, "The Hierpeldie Co., Dept. H, Detroit, Mich."

One dollar size bottle sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

Application made by the best barbers and hair dressers.

ORDINANCE NO. 343.

An ordinance to provide for the issue and sale of certain bonds for the erection and construction of a bridge across Rock River at Racine Street in the city of Janesville, and for the annual special tax levy to pay for the same.

The Mayor and Common Council of the City of Janesville do hereby ordain as follows: Whereas a resolution was duly passed by the Mayor and Common Council on the 10th day of November, 1910, directing the City Clerk to call a special election on the 8th day of November, 1910, for the purpose of submitting to the voters of said city the question, "Shall a special tax be levied for the purpose of constructing a bridge at Racine Street in the city of Janesville?" And that the voters of said city have voted in favor of the following proposition, to-wit: That the City of Janesville shall pay for the construction of a bridge across Rock River at Racine Street in the city of Janesville, and for the annual special tax levy to pay for the same.

Section 1: That the Mayor and City Clerk be and they are hereby authorized and directed to issue and sell bonds of the City of Janesville in the sum of $100,000, to be used for the purpose of constructing a bridge across Rock River at Racine Street in the city of Janesville, and for the annual special tax levy to pay for the same.

Section 2: That the Mayor and City Clerk be and they are hereby authorized and directed to issue and sell bonds of the City of Janesville in the sum of $100,000, to be used for the purpose of constructing a bridge across Rock River at Racine Street in the city of Janesville, and for the annual special tax levy to pay for the same.

Section 3: That the Mayor and City Clerk be and they are hereby authorized and directed to issue and sell bonds of the City of Janesville in the sum of $100,000, to be used for the purpose of constructing a bridge across Rock River at Racine Street in the city of Janesville, and for the annual special tax levy to pay for the same.

Section 4: That the Mayor and City Clerk be and they are hereby authorized and directed to issue and sell bonds of the City of Janesville in the sum of $100,000, to be used for the purpose of constructing a bridge across Rock River at Racine Street in the city of Janesville, and for the annual special tax levy to pay for the same.

Section 5: That the Mayor and City Clerk be and they are hereby authorized and directed to issue and sell bonds of the City of Janesville in the sum of $100,000, to be used for the purpose of constructing a bridge across Rock River at Racine Street in the city of Janesville, and for the annual special tax levy to pay for the same.

Section 6: That the Mayor and City Clerk be and they are hereby authorized and directed to issue and sell bonds of the City of Janesville in the sum of $100,000, to be used for the purpose of constructing a bridge across Rock River at Racine Street in the city of Janesville, and for the annual special tax levy to pay for the same.

Section 7: That the Mayor and City Clerk be and they are hereby authorized and directed to issue and sell bonds of the City of Janesville in the sum of $100,000, to be used for the purpose of constructing a bridge across Rock River at Racine Street in the city of Janesville, and for the annual special tax levy to pay for the same.

cast at said election on said question, that 1924 votes cast favored the levying of a special tax for the construction of said bridge across Rock River at Racine Street, and 280 votes cast against the levying of a special tax against the construction of said bridge across Rock River at Racine Street, and after duly canvassing said vote, as provided by law, the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Janesville found and declared that said question of the levying of said special tax for the construction of said bridge across Rock River at Racine Street had been duly voted upon and that the voters of said city had voted in favor of the levying of said special tax.

That said special election was held, the returns thereof were duly received and filed in section 8 of chapter 4 and section 25 of chapter 12 of the special charter of the City of Janesville, and the Mayor and Common Council of said city found and declared that said question of the levying of said special tax for the construction of said bridge across Rock River at Racine Street had been duly voted upon and that the voters of said city had voted in favor of the levying of said special tax.

That in pursuance of said order of said Mayor and Common Council, the Mayor and Common Council of said city have caused the issue and sale of bonds to pay for same, to be duly completed with and approved and said bonds ordered and authorized to be issued and sold by the Mayor and Common Council of said city, and said bonds to be used for the purpose of constructing said bridge across Rock River at Racine Street in the city of Janesville, and for the annual special tax levy to pay for the same.

That the Mayor and City Clerk be and they are hereby authorized and directed to issue and sell bonds of the City of Janesville in the sum of $100,000, to be used for the purpose of constructing a bridge across Rock River at Racine Street in the city of Janesville, and for the annual special tax levy to pay for the same.
